DISPATCH FROM SECRETARY STANTON.

HARRISBURGH, Penn., Friday, May 8.

The following dispatch from the Secretary of War has just been received by Gov. CURTIN:

WASHINGTON, May 8, 1863.

To the Governor of Pennsylvania:

The President and the General-in-Chief have just returned from the Army of the Potomac.

The principal operations of Gen. HOOKER failed, but there has been no serious disaster to the organization and efficiency of the army.

It is now occupying its former position on the Rappahannock, having recrossed the river without any loss in the movement.

Not more than one-third of Gen. HOOKER's force was engaged.

Gen. STONEMAN's operations have been a brilliant success. Part of his force advanced to within two miles of Richmond, and the enemy's communications have been cut in every direction.

The Army of the Potomac will speedily resume offensive operations. EDWIN M. STANTON,

Secretary of War.

THE RAID OF STONEMAN'S CAVALRY.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Thursday, May, 7.

YORKTOWN, Va., Thursday, May 7.

Col. KILPATRICK, with the Harris Light cavalry, Thirteenth Illinois cavalry, &c., have just arrived at Gloucester Point, having accomplished the object of their mission fully, and most gallantly they approached to within three miles of Richmond, and destroyed a large amount of property and bridges.

DISPATCH FROM GEN. KING.

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 8.

The following was received at the Headquarters of the Army this afternoon:

YORKTOWN, Va., May 7, 1863.

To Maj.-Gen. Halleck:

Col. KILPATRICK, with his regiment, the Harris Light cavalry, and the rest of the Twelfth Illinois, have just arrived at Gloucester Point, opposite this post.

They burned the bridges over the Chickahominy destroyed three large trains of provisions in the rear of LEE's army, drove in the rebel pickets to within two miles of Richmond, and have lost only one Lieutenant and 30 men, having captured and paroled over 300 prisoners.

Among the prisoners was an aid of Gen. WINDER, who was captured with his escort far within the intrenchments outside of Richmond.

This cavalry have marched nearly 200 miles since the 2d of May. They were inside of the fortifications of Richmond on the 4th, burned all the stores at Aylett's Station, on the Mattapony, on the 5th; destroyed all the ferries over the Pamunky and Mattapony, and a large depot of commissary stores near and above Rappahannock, and came in here in good condition.

They deserve great credit for what they have done. It is one of the finest feats of the war.

RUFUS KING,

Brigadier-General Commanding this Post.

THE REBEL LOSSES.

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 8.

It is stated that Gen. DIX telegraphs from Fortress Monroe that in an extra of the Richmond Dispatch of the 6th, found on a prisoner, was a pencil note, indorsed by a rebel Surgeon in one of the hospitals, to his wife, stating that the rebel loss was 18,000 in the late battles.

Nearly 1,000 of our wounded arrived to-day from Aquia Creek. They have been distributed among the hospitals in Washington and vicinity.

GEN. HOOKER'S MOVEMENTS.

From the Washington Star, May 7.

The storm that commenced on Monday evening and continued throughout Tuesday was at its height yesterday, evidently warned Gen. HOOKER—whose movement was necessarily made with only eight days' supplies, carried by the men (which were then nearly consumed,) and without trains—of the imminent danger, that unless he promptly sought his camps the elements would put a stop to his operations; the railroad communication with Aquia Creek having been destroyed by the floods for twelve hours at Brook's Station before he determined to recross the river.

In the course of all the fighting throughout Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the enemy had not ventured a general engagement with his army, only a portion of which was in action at any one time, and on no occasion with as great loss as he inflicted upon the rebels. Nevertheless, as it became evident that this greatest storm of the season would surely cut off his supplies of all descriptions, if he remained on the south side of the river awaiting an opportunity to induce the enemy to risk a general engagement, he evidently had left him but the only alternative of returning, for the time being, to where his supplies could readily reach him.

Yesterday Gen. MILROY captured a rebel officer, on whose person was found a fresh dispatch from Gen. LEE, stating that his (rebel) loss had been fearful."

The destruction of the railroad and turnpike bridges south of Fredericksburgh by STONEMAN's force, has surely placed the rebel army in a worse position for supplies than our own is at this time, as HOOKER is now where his communications are already reëstablished, while theirs (with Richmond) must continue unavailable for weeks to come, necessitating them to scatter or fall back in a body, it seems to us.

Gen. HOOKER brought off with him, we may add, an aggregate of 2,500 prisoners.

OUR SPECIAL ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

LETTERS FROM FALMOUTH.

CAMP NEAR FALMOUTH, Thursday Evening, May 7, 1863.

The army of Gen. HOOKER is again back in the positions held by its different divisions previous to the late advance. The whole of the regiments, together with all the batteries of artillery, have effected their return by the datte of this writing. Wagon trains, ammunition trains, etc., are also again in their old park ground. Our loss of arms during the various engagements was small, and none of our wagons or supplies have been captured or destroyed by the enemy. Gen. BIRNEY and Gen. GRAHAM lost their personal baggage and mess stores, together with their teams and wagons, on the advance line on Saturday, when ordered to fall back to the position they occupied previous to their advance to sustain the Eleventh Corps.

The army, notwithstanding the horrible roads they had to pass over in returning from Chancellorsville to their old camps, are in the very highest condition and spirits. Not a word of murmur has been heard from a single officer or man. As Gen. HOOKER and Staff passed by the various regiments, after they had crossed to this side of the river, they were hailed with the most enthusiastic shouts and acclamations, indicating anything but despondency or a decrease of confidence in their commander. They are ready to follow him again at any moment, to even more desperate fields than those on which they have just fought. One would have thought, to see the troops marching back during the last two days, that they had been on a gala parade instead of in a series of sanguinary battles, so cheerful were their spirits, so firm was their tread, and so eager were they for renewed action. The difference between the condition of the army on this day, and its condition on the day in December last of its retreat from Fredericksburgh, is very striking. Then every soldier knew they had had a disaster; now no one thought anything of the kind. It took months to retrieve their morale after Fredericksburgh; the morale now is perfect. Not a single soldier was lost in recrossing the river. We have had no stragglers. Not a man has tried to smouch away or desert, or get out of the ranks on any plea whatever. Aquia Creek, the grand depot of embarkation, is to-day freer from idle or straggling soldiers than it has ever been before.

Gen. SICKLES, also, was cheered by all the regiments as he passed along the lines with an enthusiasm equal to that which everywhere greeted Gen. HOOKER. His conduct on the field is the subject of universal admiration, by regulars and volunteers. He and his men faced the brunt of the battle, on Saturday and Sunday, at every point of the field and in every hour of the conflict, and never yielded an inch of ground to the enemy. Had the Eleventh corps held their position but an hour longer, Gen. SICKLES would have cut in twain the rebel army, dividing Stonewall JACKSON's column completely from LEE's body. The losses of SICKLES' corps during the four days of battle, viz.: Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, average fully thirty-three per cent. of the force he brought into the field. The official returns of casualties in his corps foot up in the aggregate 4,874 killed, wounded and missing. The heaviest loss that occurred in any one of the brigades composing the corps was in the first brigade, First division, commanded by Brig.-Gen. CHARLES K. GRAHAM, of New-York. Out of 2,800 men, he lost close upon 800—not more than one-eighth of whom are classified as "missing." Gen. GRAHAM handled his men with great skill, and behaved personally with perfect gallantry, losing two horses under him. After Gen. WHIPPLE was wounded (since dead) Gen. GRAHAM was assigned to the command of WHIPPLE's old (Third) division.

Col. STEVENS, commanding the Third regiment, Excelsior brigade, fell mortally wounded while leading his men to a charge upon the enemy's lines on Sunday morning. He was one of the most gallant soldiers and perfect gentlemen that ever lived, and, I believe, was from Dunkirk, in New-York State. When our army fell back to its defensive line near the Birk House on Sunday, his body was left on the field among the wounded and the dead whom we were compelled to abandon. Maj. H. E. TREMAINE, of Gen. SICKLES' Staff, was dispatched with a flag of truce to the enemy's lines for the purpose of recovering Col. STEVENS' body, as well as those of several other officers; but the rebel Commander refused him the privilege of entering their lines for that purpose.

The loss of the rebels is, at the least calculation, 25,000 men since the fight opened. They were so broken down by the struggle that they did not at all attempt to harass us when we recrossed the river. On Saturday afternoon, when JACKSON flanked us on the right, we opposed him with musketry, and at least 40 or 50 pieces of heavy artillery, which played incessantly upon his solid columns as they advanced. The enemy had little artillery with them, and what they had they could not get into position on this occasion, which circumstance will produce a vast disparity in the loss of the respective armies.

I am sure that I am safe in saying, from the official and other lists of casualties of the different corps engaged that have fallen under my eye, as well as from what I saw on the field during the progress of the engagments, that the rebel loss is at least one-third greater than ours. I estimate our losses—and I think this will be borne out by subsequent publications—at 18,000 men. The losses of SEDGWICK's and SICKLES' corps is about 10,000. I write in great haste, and will to-morrow furnish you details of the latest movements and present position of affairs, together with some of the unrecorded incidents of the struggle.

FALMOUTH, Va., Thursday, May 7, 1863.

The losses of the Sixth Corps, in the fierce struggle which it has encountered during the present movement, amount to 5,970, or, as I first intimated, nearly one third of the entire effective force of the whole corps. The coming in of stragglers may diminish this number to some extent, but all such on the other side will, of course, be captured.

Out of 2,300 of the Flying Division, only 900 are left to answer at the roll-call. SHALER's brigade, of NEWTON's division, lost 180 men.

In the fight of Sunday evening at Salem Heights, (4½ miles beyond Fredericksburgh,) Gen. BURKE's division lost between eleven and twelve hundred men. This is the most sanguinary battle which has thus far been fought. The corps was proceeding rapidly forward to reinforce Gen. HOOKER on the right, when it encountered the enemy in the woods of Salem Heights. A prisoner, (it is said,) on being brought in on questioning as to the position of the rebel force said that there were none in this woods. BURKE's division advanced boldly forward and were met with a terrific fire from the enemy, who were strongly intrenched in the forest. After a severe infantry fight the infantry withdrew, and we shelled the woods terrifically, causing the rebels to leave the woods, and we took possession of them. In the second fight of Salem Heights, (Monday evening,) when the enemy attacked us, an idea of the disparity between the forces may be obtained from the announcement of Gen. SEDGWICK, that "the emergency of the case is such, that a regiment must do the work of a brigade.' The rebels charged, with terrific yells, but were successfully repulsed, when our men would fall back toward the river.

The Fifth Wisconsin and Sixty-first Pennsylvania supported one of our batteries, which did terrible execution on the charging enemy, and, falling back into a gully, were fired upon by our own guns.

The Forty-third New-York and Seventh Maine were left at the extreme right, near a cross-roads, to keep up a show, while the remainder of the corps retired across Banks' Ford. The force commenced crossing at 11 o'clock Monday night. The enemy succeeded in getting in the rear of the pickets of these two regiments, took them before they fired a gun, then moved down upon the Sixth Maine, which fired a volley, repulsing them, and then retreated to Banks' Ford, together with the Forty-third New-York, reaching it in safety, being obliged to make their way through brush and slushing. Haines' Battery did fine execution, and lost but one man.

The rebels confidently expected to capture the whole corps. Its retreat was a masterly affair. The bridges over Banks' Ford, (built by the Fifteenth New-York Engineers,) over which they retreated, have been taken up. The whole army is safe on this side, the Fifth Army Corps covering the retreat.

We have captured not less than 17 guns.

The boys are in good spirits and there is no demoralization. Twelve or fifteen thousand will, I think, cover our total loss. The air is very chilly this morning.

Lieut.-Col. CORNING, Thirty-third New-York, was not wounded as first reported.

Lieut.-Col. HALE, Sixth Vermont, had his horse shot from under him. The Sixth captured four hundred prisoners. D. W. JUDD.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 8.

CAPTURES BY STONEMAN.

Official confirmation has been received of the capture by STONEMAN's cavalry of a battalion of Richmond troops sent out to investigate the cause of the non-arrival of the trains from Fredericksburgh.

THE TWENTIETH NEW-YORK COMING HOME.

The Twentieth New-York arrived here, to-day, from Falmouth, and will leave for New-York to-morrow. Although their term of service expired on the 3d, the men patriotically refused to leave their brigade until the battle was over.

REBEL PRISONERS TAKING THE OATH.

Sixty-five rebel prisoners to-day took the oath of allegiance, and expressed a desire to remain within our lines. Eight were from North Carolina, thirteen from Mississippi, thirty from Louisiana, nine from Alabama, and six from Virginia. More than one-fourth of the whole number captured will take the oath.

REPORTED DEATH OF LIEUT.-COL. MARTINDALE.

Lieut.-Col. MARTINDALE, brother of Gen. MARTINDALE, Military Governor of this city, is reported to be among the killed in the late engagements.

GOV. CURTIN VISITING THE ARMY.

Gov. CURTIN, accompanied by the Surgeon-General of Pennsylvania, leaves in a special boat to-morrow for the army, to look after wounded Pennsylvanians. He expresses himself greatly pleased with the perfect arrangements made by Surgeon-General HAMMOND for the care and treatment of the sick and wounded, and particularly with the plan now adopted, for which he has so long and earnestly contended, of sending all able to travel to hospitals in their own States.

THE INVALID CORPS.

Col. RUSH, of the Sixth Pennsylvania cavalry—lancers—has been detailed for special duty at the War Department, to organize the Invalid Corps.

RETURNED FROM RICHMOND.

Lieut.-Col. DUNN, brother of Hon. WM. MCKEE DUNN, of Indiana, is among the officers returned from Richmond.

ARRIVAL OF WOUNDED.

About 1,200 wounded arrived here, to-day, from Falmouth. They were distributed among the various hospitals.

COLORED TROOPS.

Five hundred colored men in this District have already enrolled their names for the regiment now forming here.

REVENUE DECISIONS.

The following decisions have been made by the Commissioners of Internal Revenue:

Manure purchased by farmers to maintain their lands in their present productive condition are to be considered as "repairs," in estimating the income of farmers.

All silver or gold plate, except that belonging to religious societies, not kept for sale, should be assessed as provided in Schedule A, and billiard-tables kept for public use are equally subject to an annual tax of ten dollars, with those kept for private use, which is additional to the license tax.

Wherever income is derived partly from United States securities and partly from other sources, it will be proper that exemptions and deductions allowed by law shall, so far as practicable, be deducted from the income derived from the latter source, so as to give full effect to the provision of the law that income from United States Securities shall be taxed but one and one-half per cent.

If a purchaser is bound by any covenant in his deed, either expressly or by legal implication, to pay the mortgage, the debt which the mortgage is given to secure becomes a part consideration of the grant, and the whole value of the estate conveyed is that to which a stamp should be appropriate. If, however, the grantee purchases only an equity redemption, and does not bind himself to pay off the mortgage or save the vendee harmless from responsibility for the mortgage debt, the mortgage debt forms no part consideration of the conveyance, and a stamp for that part of the value is not required.

Any person issuing an instrument not duly stamped, is liable to a penalty of $50. Persons holding such instruments are, under section 94, of act of July 1, 1862, authorized to affix and cancel the required revenue stamps, or the person who issued the instrument may affix and cancel the stamp after the issue of the instrument. In no case will an instrument not duly stamped be received in evidence in Court. On and after June 1, 1863, every instrument issued without being duly stamped, will be invalid and of no effect.

THE CONSCRIPTION LAW.

Important Proclamation by the President.

The Liability of Foreigners who Have Declared Their Intentions to Become Citizens.

No Plea of Alienage to be Received After Sixty-five Days.

WASHINGTON, May 6, 1863.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, The Congress of the United States, at its last session, enacted a law entitled "An act for enrolling and calling out the national forces, and for other purposes," which was approved on the 3d day of March last; and

Whereas, It is recited in the said act that there now exists in the United States an insurrection and rebellion against the authority thereof, and it is, under the Constitution of the United States, the duty of the Government to suppress insubordination and rebellion, to guarantee to each State a republican form of government, and to preserve the public tranquility; and

Whereas, For these high purposes, a military force is indispensable, to raise and support which all persons ought willingly to contribute; and

Whereas, No service can be more praiseworthy and honorable than that which is rendered, for the maintenance of the Constitution and the Union, and the consequent preservation of free government; and

Whereas, For the reasons thus recited it was enacted by the said statute that all able-bodied male citizens of the United States, and persons of foreign birth who shall have declared on oath their intentions to become citizens under and in pursuance of the laws thereof, between the ages of 20 and 45 years, with certain exemptions not necessary to be here mentioned, and declared to constitute the National forces, and shall be liable to perform military duty in the service of the United States, when called out by the President for that purpose; and

Whereas, It is claimed and in behalf of persons of foreign birth within the ages specified in said act, who have heretofore declared on oath their intentions to become citizens under and in pursuance of the laws of the United States, and who have not exercised the right of suffrage, or any other political franchise under the laws of the United States, or of any of the States thereof, are not absolutely precluded by their aforesaid declaration of intention, from renouncing their purpose to become citizens; and that, on the contrary, such persons, under treaties or the law of nations, retain a right to renounce that purpose, and to forego the privilege of citizenship and residence within the United States, under the obligations imposed by the aforesaid act of Congress.

Now, therefore, to avoid all misapprehensions concerning the liability of persons concerned to perform the service required by such enactment, and to give it full effect, I do hereby order and proclaim that no plea of alienage will be received or allowed to exempt from the obligations imposed by the aforesaid act of Congress, any person of foreign birth who shall have declared on oath his intention to become a citizen of the United States under the laws thereof, and who shall be found within the United States at any time during the continuance of the present insurrection and rebellion, at or after the expiration of the period of sixty-five days from the date of this proclamation; nor shall any such plea of alienage be allowed in favor of any such person who has so, as aforesaid, declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and shall have exercised at any time the right of suffrage, or any other political franchise within the United States, under the laws thereof, or under the laws of any of the several States.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my seal, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, this 8th day of May, in the year of our Lord 1863, and of the Independence of the United States the Eighty-seventh.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

By the President,

WM. H. SEWARD, Secretary of State.

Loss of the Ship Canada.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Friday, May 8.

On the 3d inst., in lat. 47°, long. 48° 03', the brig Attilla boarded the iron ship Canada, found abandoned, with her forward compartment full of water. The ship was unmanageable. Two boats were gone. It is supposed the crew left in them.

IMPORTANT FROM THE MISSISSIPPI

The Capture of Grand Gulf by Admiral Porter.

GREAT STRENGTH OF THE FORTIFICATIONS

The Most Formidable Position on the River.

The Works Much Cut up by the Fire of Our Gunboats.

TROOPS LANDED BELOW.

Preparations for the March on Vicksburgh.

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 8.

The Secretary of the Navy has received the following dispatch:

FLAG-SHIP BENTON, BELOW GRAND GULF, Miss., April 29, 1863.

Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy:

I have the honor to inform you that by an arrangement with Gen. GRANT, I attacked the batteries at Grand Gulf this morning, which were very formidable. After a fight of five hours and thirty minutes, we silenced the lower batteries, but failed to silence the upper one, which was high, strongly built, had guns of very heavy calibre, and the vessels were unmanageable in the heavy current. It fired but feebly toward the last, and the vessels all laid by and enfiladed it, while I went up a short distance to communicate with Gen. GRANT, who concluded to land the troops and march over to a point two miles below Grand Gulf. I sent the Lafayette back to engage the upper batteries, which she did, and drove the persons out of it. As it did not respond after a few fires, at six P. M., we attacked the batteries again, and under cover of the fire, all the transports passed by in good condition. The Benton, Tuscumbia and Pittsburgh, were much cut up, having 24 killed and 56 wounded, but they are all ready for service. We land the army in the morning on the other side, and march on Vicksburgh. DAVID D. PORTER,

Acting Rear-Admiral.

FLAG-SHIP BENTON, GRAND GULF, Miss., May 3, 1863.

Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy:

SIR: I have the honor to report that I got under way this morning with the Lafayette, Carondelet, Mound City and Pittsburgh, and proceeded up to the forts at Grand Gulf for the purpose of attacking them again, if they had not been abandoned. The enemy had left before we got up, blowing up their ammunition, spiking their large guns, and burying or taking away the lighter ones. The works consisted of thirteen guns in all. The works are of the most extensive kind, and would seem to defy the efforts of a much heavier fleet than the one which silenced them. The forts were literally torn to pieces by the accuracy of our fire. Col. WADE, the commandant of the batteries, was killed; also his Chief of Staff. Eleven men were killed that we know of, and our informant says that many were wounded, and that no one was permitted to go inside the forts after the action, except those belonging there.

We had a hard fight for these forts, and it is with great pleasure that I report that the navy holds the door to Vicksburgh. Grand Gulf is the strongest place on the Mississippi. Had the enemy succeeded in finishing the fortifications, no fleet could have taken them.

I have been all over the works and found them as follows: One fort on a point of rocks, 75 feet high, calculated for six or seven guns, mounting two 7-inch rifles and one 8-inch, and one Parrot gun on wheels, which was carried off. On the left of this work is a triangular work, calculated to mount one heavy gun. These works are connected with another fort by a covered way and double rifle-pits extending one-quarter of a mile, constructed with much labor, and showing great skill on the part of the constructor. The third fort commands the river in all directions. It mounted one splendid Blakely 100-pounder, one 8-inch and two 30-pounders. The latter were lying bursted or broken on the ground.

The gunboats had so covered up everything with earth that it was impossible to see, at first, what was there, with the exception of the guns that were dismounted or broken.

Every gun that fell into our hands was in good condition, and we found a large quantity of ammunition.

These are by far the most extensively built works, with the exception of those at Vicksburgh, I have seen yet, and I am happy to say that we hold them.

I am dismounting the guns and getting on board the ammunition.

Since making the above examination, new forts have been passed, nearly finished. They had no guns, but were complete of the kind, as regards position, and had heavy field pieces in them.

DAVID D. PORTER, Acting Rear-Admiral,
Commanding Mississippi Squadron.

CAIRO, Friday, May 8.

It is stated by passengers from below that a part of Gen. GRANT's forces have occupied Port Gibson, and that the main body were advancing upon Black River. The rebels who escaped from Grand Gulf were vigorously pursued and many captured. Report says that they spiked most of their guns at Grand Gulf on Sunday night.

A tug attempting to run by the batteries of Vicksburgh with two barges, was destroyed by a hot shot from the rebel batteries. The barges were loaded with commissary stores, protected by bales of hay, which caught fire. The reports are conflicting as to the fate of the crew.

NEWS FROM THE REBEL STATES

Details of the Great Raid of Our Cavalry in Central Mississippi.

INTERESTING MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

THE RAID INTO MISSISSIPPI.

"The Yankees," the Richmond Dispatch observes, "are improving on raids. Their last was from Pontotoc, Miss., nearly 150 miles into the State. They cleaned up this country generally as they passed, aiming to 'capture' Houston, the county seat of Chickasaw County, Miss., and the treasury of the same, with $10,000 in funds, including $4,000 in gold. The Mobile Tribune gives an account of the raid which the telegraph has in vain been attempting to explain:

'Reports were brought to Okalona on Sunday, the 18th inst., that the Yankees were approaching by way of Pontotoc, said to be 1,200 strong—all picket cavalry. Cols. BARROW and INGE had a skirmish with them on Saturday afternoon, not far from Chesterville and Birmingham, and checked them immedi stating that he (Col. BARTOW) would hold them in check until help came. His loss in the fight was said to be thirty-one killed, wounded and missing. It is said the militia behaved very badly. They broke and ran after the second fire, leaving BARTOW and INGE to bear the brunt.

On Tuesday, another party of Federals—about 400—came suddenly on Okalona. They came in between BARTOW's command and the Second Alabama Cavalry, who were out west of Okalona, hunting for them. The boys had passed through Okalona on Monday, but were poorly armed. Nearly all had sabres, and their pistols and shot-guns were so divided that nearly every man had something to shoot with. They number 960 men, but not more than 450 could go out after the Yankees. Our men also had a battle eight miles east of Okalona, but for lack of horses could not move it with the cavalry. On Monday the Yankees arrived in Houston, Chickasaw County, and captured the treasury, $10,000, among which was said to be $4,000 in gold.

They captured and paroled a number of citizens who come under our conscript laws. This they have done all the way down. They destroyed all the records of the County, and their depredations were conducted in their usual brutal manner. While at Okalona they captured a Mr. SMITH, who is a section-master on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, and a German named CHARLEY, who attends the tank. They threatened to burn the depot house and tank, but CHARLEY told them if they destroyed the road there that he and SMITH would have to go into the army to make a living, but by saving the houses and roads the Yanks would have two men less to fight. After this kind of reasoning the Yanks thought best to let the roads and wires alone, the operator, Mr. WALKER, having just made his escape with the instruments.

They also made feints on West Point, Artesia, and came within two miles of Macon. They threatened several other points on the road down, but did not come quite to them. The manner in which this raid has been conducted proves that the Yanks are greatly improving in the art of raiding. for they would send out small parties with big stories and threaten points on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, while their main body was striking a bee line for the Southern Road, thus drawing our forces up the road and away from the real point of attack.

They struck the Southern road at Newton about 7 o'clock Friday morning. They arrested the agent there, but he managed to have his son run down the road to warn the trains from Meridian of their danger in time to save them, though they caught a freight and construction train, burnt the depot, a large amount of sugar and molasses, and other stores; and damaged the road for three miles by burning the little trestle works, the largest being about 70 feet in length. The damage to the road does not amount to near so much as was at first thought. They then moved toward Enterprise. Keeping their main body back, they sent 78 men into the town to demand its surrender, and gave the Mayor one hour, and during this hour they made their escape; for Gen. LORING was after them from Meridian, with two regiments of Gen. BUCKNER's pets, the Third and Seventh Kentucky, and the 12th Louisiana.

Gen. LORING started with his men on foot, having heard that the Yankees were in line of battle about seven miles from Enterprise, but after double-quicking that distance the Feds were non est, and the boys came back quite put out because they could not catch the scoundrels. This alarming body of cavalry, while at Newton, were numbered, and they had 1,000 men, all told, and four light pieces of artillery. But they are well-mounted and armed as only Yankees are, and help themselves to fresh horses wherever they can find them.

But now a question arises, how are they going to get out? The last heard of them, they were about twenty miles from Enterprise, going west. It does seem that they ought to be caught. There was no necessity for the great alarm which prevailed, for surely these Yankees have got themselves in a predicament, in which they are very liable to lose all the glory they have won in the bold raid, if the game is only played right at them."

The Mobile Register says:

"It looks as if the plan was to amuse our two great armies in Tennessee and on the Mississippi with expectations of early battle, while a movement was made from North Mississippi—Corinth and Memphis being the bases—southward through Mississippi. The Yankees have evidently been acting upon the false information that there were no Confederate troops on those lines. They have also discovered their mistake at Cold Water, Birmingham and Enterprise. The raid so far South as the Meridian and Jackson road was certainly a bold one, but like all bold military enterprises, a very hazardous one.

We hope yet to learn that they will find the return not so easy as the sudden irruption. From the best information we can gather, these parties are mounted infantry, a character of force unformidable. One of WHEELER's or VAN DORN's cavalry regiments could scatter five thousand of them. Before they get back, these gentry will be apt to hear VAN DORN's bugles in their rear. It would be no great feat for VAN DORN's bold riders to cut them off, if they tarry on this expedition. Meantime, this raid puts our authorities on the qui vive to guard a passage which has been left too much exposed."

STONEMAN'S RAID.

From the Richmond Enquirer, May 5.

The Yankee forces largely engaged in raids upon the railroads were composed of twenty-eight regiments, all under Gen. STONEMAN, a force of at least 15,000 men. The detachment of so large a body of troops upon such an expedition, while a battle like that just fought in Spotsylvania was in actual delivery, will remain one of the inexplicable manœuvres of Yankee strategy. Fifteen thousand cavalry is a most formidable force, and, judiciously used on the battle-field, might have caused us irreparable loss. But HOOKER has seen fit to expend this formidable force, not upon the battle-field, but upon the undefended railroads, and what damage has he done?

From all we can gather, three engines have been partially destroyed, the rails torn up at several points on the lines, creating a delay of transportation of possibly two or three days. The exact amount of injury done to the railroads has not been ascertained, and the rumors and reports are so conflicting and contradictory that it is folly to repeat them. We learn from a gentleman who was captured by them at Ashland, and whose horse was taken, that no damage was done to the cars, except, perhaps, to the engine; that the force was expecting to be captured; that a Col. DAVIS, commanding the force, so expressed himself; that hungry, dispirited and jaded, many of the men expressed openly a desire to be captured. Their main object was avowed to be the destruction of the Central Railroad bridge over the Chickahominy, which they accomplished. Not being gratified by being captured, they are said to have crossed the Chickahominy at Meadow Bridges, and gone over the Pamunkey at Old Church, and to be making their way either to Gloucester Point or the Rappahannock.

Another party under Col. WINDHAM passed through Louisa County toward Columbia, on the canal, and being followed by Gen. W. H. F. LEE, were overtaken and dispersed with the loss of thirty prisoners and six killed. The destruction or injury of the canal was prevented by Gen. LEE, who was unable to follow them upon their retreat from the Down and jaded condition of his horses.

Another party, acting in concert with these, visited Hanover Court-house and burned the depots, doing no other injury worthy of note.

They then proceeded down the north bank of the Chickahominy, directing their course toward Williamsburgh. There were many rumors afloat as to their movements after their operations at Atlee's, which we deem unnecessary to mention, there being no truth in them.

PRELIMINARY MOVEMENTS AT FREDERICKSBURGH.

Correspondence of the Dispatch.

ALSOP'S CROSSING, Friday, May 2, 1863.

At 7½ o'clock this morning the roar of artillery from above, apparently at or behind Banks' Ford, was echoed from batteries on the river near Hamilton's Crossing. Before going to the latter point and listening to "the music of its roar" on both sides of me, let me give you yesterday's news. I learned that the heavy cannonading yesterday afternoon occurred about seven miles above Fredericksburgh on the Plank road. There was little fighting beyond skirmishing, the enemy keeping close in the woods. The results I may gather this morning. The fighting Wednesday I hear was done mainly by the Fifth and Sixth Louisiana, and the Thirteenth Georgia. It was Lieut.-Col. HENLEY, of the Sixth, who was taken prisoner, with 87 of his regiment killed, wounded and missing.

They attacked the enemy near PRATT's house. The Fifth Louisiana held the river road opposite BERNARD's. An officer told me he thought there were 7,000 on this side, on the banks of the river, who were making earthworks, and had two cannon at least across. On Thursday some half dozen of the Ninth Louisiana were killed by the premature explosion of one of our own shells.

A wounded soldier who left the fight early yesterday afternoon tells me that ANDERSON's division engaged the enemy and drove them back. A prisoner told him only one corps had come over. I hear since that four are on this side. The enemy were easily driven back at first, but being reinforced by a division of regulars, they fought better, but were driven three miles. RHODES' men reinforced ANDERSON's. It was not a general fight. The woods are extensive and there is little cleared land. It occurred near a wooden church, where the river road enters the plank road, about seven miles above Fredericksburgh. The enemy seem disposed to come in behind Marye's hill this time.

10½ A. M.—Gen. EARLY opened on the Yankee batteries on this side and across the river. The artillery duel was severe for some time. One artilleryman on our side, a Virginian, had his leg shot off, and three others were wounded. The enemy first moved down the river. After the heavy fire above had continued some time, the enemy turned and moved large forces at double-quick up the river, and withdrew nearly all their pickets, leaving one only in forty yards. Before that they were thick and close almost as in line of battle. From above I hear LEE drove the enemy five miles. WILCOX's brigade left Banks' Ford, and were sent out as skirmishers, but could not catch up with the Yankees, who were demoralized, and retreated rapidly beyond Decker's, two miles below Chancellorsville. At midnight they returned to Banks' Ford, where the enemy had appeared to be preparing to cross on pontoon bridges. The Yankees crossed at United States Ford, by permission, I suppose. Two brigades, FEATHERSTONE's and another, retired on their approach. A German Major came over at the wrong place, and got caught. The citizens past whose houses the enemy retreated said they were much demoralized. STUART and FITZHUGH LEE are about, taking prisonres, &c. If HOOD and LONGSTREET come up in the rear, few Yankees will recross. Several valuable deserters swam the river last night at Fredericksburgh. BARKSDALE's men received them. Their names I did not hear. They were three mules and a horse.

11 A. M.—A courier, just arrived, reports that JACKSON has got between the Yankees and the river. LEE and JACKSON were both on the field all night. About 100 prisoners were at headquarters last night. JACKSON's old division was on the right and ANDERSON's on the left. Yankee double-quicking on the other side of the river can't save those on this.

12¾ P. M.—Col. HARRIS, of the Twelfth Mississippi, was slightly wounded late last evening in the thigh, near the plank road. He goes down on the cars to-day. He and a Lieutenant were the only wounded in his regiment. The casualties are reported very few; 250 prisoners were taken in a squad. A report from Fredericksburgh, still unoccupied and not aired on, says the enemy crossed last night at Sanford's Ford, one mile above Burk's Ford, and got into the fight near Deeber's yesterday evening, and were driven back to the river. This morning three brigades and four batteries, yesterday evening, passed up opposite Fredericksburgh. The force opposite Fredericksburgh is apparently much reduced.

12¾ P. M.—MAHONE lost about 100 killed; one Captain and one Lieutenant of the Sixty-first regiment wounded; Adjutant of the Forty-first and a Lieutenant wounded; one Captain of the Forty-first killed and another wounded; Capt. CASTLE, of the Sixty-first, lost a leg, and Adjutant BURT was wounded below the knee.

ALABAMA.

THE BATTLE AT TUSCUMBIA.

The Huntsville Confederate gives the following fuller account of the battle near Tuscumbia:

"On Friday last, the Confederate cavalry, under Col. RODDY, whose headquarters are at Tuscumbia, encountered at Big Bear Creek, a body of the enemy, said to be four brigades, of all arms, variously estimated at 4,000 to 6,500 strong, and fought them, as we are informed, by one of RODDY's regiments nearly the whole day. He says three of his regiment were killed and some of the command were wounded and some taken prisoners, but some of these were recaptured by our troops, leaving very few in the hands of the Yankees. The enemy's loss in killed and wounded is believed to be much greater, and to include one Colonel killed. We have heard the number of Yankee prisoners stated as high as 176, but only 79 have, as yet, been brought to this city—13 of them on Saturday night last and 66 on Tuesday afternoon. Of them, about 45 were from one or another of the German States, two or three from Switzerland, one each from Ireland and England, two or three natives of Kentucky, several from Missouri, and one from Washington County, Va. The rest were, we believe, of Yankee origin. After the fight, RODDY fell back to a strong position 3½ miles west of Tuscumbia, and the enemy, after advancing several miles, fell back across Big Bear Creek.

It is said that the Yankees burnt the gin-house of Mr. WM. DICKINSON, containing about 25,000 or 30,000 pounds of seed cotton, the dwelling-house of Mr. GOODLOE MALONE, the railroad depot at Dickson, and other houses, &c. This news, however, needs confirmation."

TORIES.

The Huntsville Confederate, of the 23d, says that a number of tories have banded themselves together in Land Mountain, North Alabama, and are resisting the Conscription law and the arrest of deserters; that recently they worsted a company of mounted men; that the facts have been reported to headquarters at Tullahoma, and that a force has been detached to suppress the rascals.

JEFF. DAVIS' VETOES.

From the Richmond Whig, May 4.

On the last day of the late session of Congress, the President returned two acts with his veto—one, originating in the Senate, to authorize the transmission of newspapers to soldiers free of postage. The disapproval is based upon the contravention of that section of the Constitution which requires the Post-office Department to be self-sustaining. One provision of the act required the payment of postage upon said newspapers out of the public treasury, and was, therefore, in effect, an appropriation to the Post-office Department.

The other act vetoed was in relation to the Tennessee Congressional elections. A bill was subsequently framed so as to obviate the objections of the President, and being passed by both Houses, received his approval and signature a few minutes before the adjournment.

Both acts were unsigned by the President, and therefore failed to become laws. One provided for the conscription of citizens of the United States sojourning in the Confederate States; another organizing a General Staff, another establishing the Ordnance Department, and the fourth relating to the public printing.

NORTH CAROLINA.

A RAID NEAR KINSTON.

The Kinston correspondence of the Raleigh State Journal says that the raid of the Yankees in that direction on the 28th of April, was not as formidable an expedition as it was at first supposed to be. The number of the enemy did not exceed five regiments. But so small an expedition as it was they were permitted to come within eight miles of Kinston before they met with any formidable resistance, and then only by about two hundred men of the Fifty-sixth regiment, who fought them desperately for three and a half hours; they being all that we had on picket duty on the Dover Road. The considerable loss in killed, wounded and missing is only to our men.

Lieut. LUMSDEN has died of his wounds, and his remains have been sent to Fayetteville, his former home, for interment. Also among the killed are the following privates: THOMAS NELSON, PARRISH, MCNEILL and MCNEES.

THE CROPS

From the Raleigh Journal.

Letters from all portions of the State continue to assure us that the prospects of an abundant harvest in all kinds of crops is very encouraging. The wheat looks remarkably healthy, and the "stand" is unusually heavy, and besides this, the breadth sown is much greater than people generally suppose. The corn crop will be undoubtedly large, and the fruit crop has not been materially injured by the late cold spells. This state of things, we are happy to observe, is common all over the Confederacy. In Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama the crops are represented as promising. Let us trust to the mercy of a beneficent Providence and to the sturdy arm and stout hearts of our troops and do our duty, and all will be well.

TRADING WITH THE ENEMY.

In the rebel House of Representatives, on May 4, Mr. MILES, from the Military Committee, reported back a bill to prevent the sale, exchange, or other disposition of the enemy's notes, bonds, &c., issued under the authority of the United States, being a substitute for the bill on the subject introduced by Mr. FOOTE and referred to the same Committee.

Mr. MCQUEEN, of South Carolina, opposed the bill upon constitutional grounds. It was unconstitutional to pass such a law. Those notes would find their way in, notwithstanding all that could be done to prevent it, and the Constitution allows to the citizens of the Confederate States to trade and barter in any and all articles which may come within the limits of the Confederate States.

Mr. MACHEN, of Kentucky, introduced a substitute for the whole bill, making it unlawful, after the 1st of July next, to bring into the Confederate States, for sale or barter, any goods, wares or merchandise of the United States, under penalty of fine, imprisonment and confiscation of the goods; also, making unlawful to use in any way the paper currency of the United States under similar penalty.

On suggestion of Mr. HOLT, of Georgia, the substitute of Mr. MACHEN was ordered to come as a 4th section to the substitute of the Committee.

On motion of Mr. MILES, the pending amendments were laid upon the table, and the substitute of the Committee adopted—ayes 59, noes 11.

The bill makes it unlawful to trade or traffic in the Treasury notes or any other paper currency issued in the United States, under penalty of not less than $1,000 and five or six months imprisonment, as the Judge or jury trying the case, according to the practice of the Courts of the State wherein the offence has been committed, may determine.

SHINPLASTERS IN RICHMOND.

From the Richmond Whig, May 4.

Shinplasters again deluge the city. The refusal of the State and the Confederate authorities to authorize the issue of small notes has emboldened the hoarders of State and city "change" to push out and invite the introduction of the uncouth and ridiculous looking paper currency of Southern savings banks, which once before variegated the currency in the city. This should be stopped by popular movement. Let no man accept a "shinplaster" whose place of redemption is outside of the State of Virginia.

THE REBEL FLAG.

From the Richmond Dispatch, May 5.

We saw on Saturday the first flag of the Confederate States in accordance with the design of Congress adopted at its recent session. The white ground was recommended by a number of military and naval officers, as possessing the requisite of distinguishment at a long distance. The battle flag was retained as the union, because of its association with so many brilliant feats of our brave men under it.

SPIRIT OF THE REBEL PRESS.

GOV. BROWN, OF GEORGIA.

From the Richmond Enquirer.

Gov. BROWN has differed, on some points, from the Confederate authorities—especially on the constitutionality of the conscription—and many have thought him too ready to make issues with it, and to set up the sovereign rights of his State in opposition to it, at a time when combined action and universal confidence and support are especially needed for united action against the common enemy. Nobody doubts that Gov. BROWN is a good Confederate, and has at heart the independent separate existence of Georgia and her allied States. No man has charged him with any cowardly looking back for a back-door of escape into the accursed old Union. His errors, if such they be, are errors of expediency, not of principle; and we are well assured, by distinguished Georgians, that no man in all the South has more warmly at heart the total separation of our slaveholding States from all the Yankee States without exception. He is certainly an able and zealous Governor, understands thoroughly the material interests of his State, and has done much to develop her magnificent resources. There might be worse Governors.

Once more, we disclaim all idea of thrusting ourselves into a question which so essentially pertains to the people of Georgia. At this moment, all that the Confederacy can ask of the people of that State is to give it a Governor who will truly represent the thoroughgoing Confederate principle, as that is understood by the hosts of brave men that Georgia has sent forth to stand in the front rank, and court the most perilous place "on the rough edge of battle," in every engagement of war; and that principle is in three words: State Sovereignty of Georgia; fraternity with the people of her sister States; eternal separation from our enemies.

GEORGIA AND THE CONFEDERATE BONDS.

From the Rome (Ga.) Southerner.

The refusal of the Legislature to indorse Georgia's share of the bonds will travel with the speed of electricity to the North, and from thence it will be carried on the wings of the wind throughout the civilized world. Will not our enemies consider this action of the Legislature the greatest victory for LINCOLN of the war? Can any more loans be negotiated in England and France, when these two great Powers are informed that Georgia is distrustful of the Confederate credit?

We hear and have heard for months that Illinois is opposed to the war, and why is it? Because she repudiates LINCOLN's war debt. Will not Georgia be put down as opposed to the war for the reason that she opposes the war debt of President DAVIS? The truth is, Georgia has been in the background ever since the commencement of the war. Instead of being leader, she has been led. Her people are patriotic. At the first tap of the drum, her gallant sons rushed forward to meet the advancing foe. But the perverseness of her rulers has kept her in the shade when she should have been in the front.

GREAT BRITAIN.

From the Atlanta Intelligencer.

Presuming now that the North is the stronger in the war being waged upon the South, Lord RUSSELL talks of England's "friendship" for it. Let "a change come o'er the spirit of his dream," and he would talk of "friendship" for the South just as glibly! Away with all such "friendship!" False-hearted, hollow-hearted England, the time will come when your friendship will not be needed at the South. True, to the South your friendship is due; but such a debt England never paid. While for a long series of years the North has been its meanest rival and its bitterest reviler, the South poured wealth into her lap, and would have sustained her industry. We know her now, and thank God that we do! Let her friendship be bestowed upon the Puritan North; we want none of it!

REBEL HOPES.

From the Chattanooga Rebel.

What do we hope for? Do you ask? Not for peace more than revenge upon a ruthless, heartless, cruel enemy. We hope, and hope it earnestly, to live long enough, if no longer, to see our cavalry swooping through every city, village and hamlet of the Yankees. To see their women begging protection as ours have pleaded with tearful eyes to fiends in Yankee uniforms, to be protected from their brutal soldiery. To see the plows torn from the hands of their farmers and broken to pieces—their fences laid waste and their homes in flames, &c., &c., &c., &c.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A Charleston correspondent of the Columbus (Ga.) Times says that "An inspection of Fort Sumter shows that while one ball went through the embrasures and struck the opposite side of the fort, that the shot only penetrated one or two feet, and that no injury is done. Gen. G. W. SMITH expressed the opinion to-day, after a thorough examination of the walls, that the iron-clad navy could not reduce the fort. His opinion is worth knowing."

—The Mobile Tribune has a rumor that the Alabama has captured the steamer Moses Taylor, with more than a million dollars on board; which is rather improbable, as that vessel is on the Pacific coast.

—The amount of Confederate notes deposited in Lynchburgh, Va., up to April 22, was... $1,700,000
In Montgomery it amounted to..... 8,000,000
In Augusta, Ga..... 2,500,000
In Atlanta, Ga..... 1,284,000
In Columbia, S. C..... 6,041,000
In Petersburgh, Va..... 3,000,000

—Strawberries were selling in Augusta, Geo., a few days since, at $1 25 per quart.

—The Committee of Safety in Mobile have resolved to publish the names of all persons who refuse to accept Confederate money in payment of debts or obligations.

—The report that an engagement had taken place at Pascagoula, Fla., is untrue.

—The venerable Episcopal Church on James Island, S. C., has been burned to the ground. The woods were on fire, and communicated the flames to the building.

—The friends of Gen. W. H. T. WALKER have purchased for him, in Charleston, a magnificent warsteed, for $2,000.

—Mrs. CHANNING PRICE, says the Richmond Dispatch, aid to Gen. STUART, was mortally wounded in the engagement which took place with the enemy east of Chancellorsville, on Friday last, and the same night. It is said that at the time he received his wound, Gen. STUART also made a narrow escape from like danger.

pushed therefrom, and thrown to the ground, by some one in defendants' employ, the cars passed over his leg, inflicting a wound of a severest nature. The plaintiff claims damages to the amount of $10,000, on the ground that the child's services to him are now useless; that he will never be able to earn his own living, or be of any service to the plaintiff.

The defendants set up a general denial. The facts elicited were pretty much as stated in the complaint. The defendants, however, brought the case to a summary close by drawing a juror.

Dulaye & Richardson, for plaintiff; T. M. North, for defendants.

Decisions.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Before Justice Allen

Stewart vs. Leonard et al.—Judgment for defendants, with costs. See opinion.

Before Justice Sutherland.

Freeman vs. Munns, &c.—The costs are the costs as from an appeal from an order; that is, $10 only.

Before Justice Leonard.

Jones et al. vs. Brown.—Motion granted on payment of the costs of inquest and costs, $10, of opposing motion. Order to be settled on four days' notice to defendant's attorney.

SUPERIOR COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Justice Moncrief.

Batteil vs. Gordon.—The preliminary objection to the making an application to set aside an order or a writ upon the ground that it was irregularly issued or is void, that the party is adjudged guilty of contempt of an order of this Court is not well taken, and must be overruled. When a party is in contempt, and asks the Court for a favor, the rule obtains that he must first purge himself; not so, however, when he claims a matter of right.

Papers on both sides with Clerk at Chambers.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Justice Leonard.

Cawein vs. Kelly, Sheriff. &c.—Settled.

Before Justice Ingraham.

In Matter of Assessment for Grading Eightieth-street, &c.—Order settled.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Before Justice Bosworth.

Ammidown vs. Pippey.—Motion granted, with $10 costs. Papers in the Clerk's office.

FRIDAY, May 8—P. M.

There is an improved feeling to-day in reference to the situation and prospects of the Army of the Potomac, and the price of Gold Coin lost the whole advance made yesterday on the news of the retreat of Gen. HOOKER across the Rappahannock. The early sales of the day were at 154½, from which the price fell off to 152¼@½ in the afternoon. The Exchanges on Europe are 2@3 ₱ cent. lower than the asking rates of yesterday, and first-class Bills on London, for Saturday's mail, are quoted at the close of business, 166@167 ₱ cent. The demand for Gold for immediate export, to cover Exchange, is moderate, though it is said that some few of the Foreign Bankers and Importers were buyers yesterday morning, under the first impression of the news, as a movement of precaution against the possible rise in Bills.

The active speculation on the Stock Exchange has advanced the price for Money among the Brokers to 6 ₱ cent., and to-day the demand at this rate was quite sharp. The values at the Stock list run up so rapidly, of late, that a much larger amount of Money is required to do the daily business which this speculation creates. The Banks last week placed a large amount of their surplus Currency with the Treasury on 5 ₱ cent. interest, since when the disbursements of the Treasury have scarcely been equal to its other receipts from the daily subscriptions to the Loan of 1882.

The increased speculative excitement on the Stock Exchange to-day carried up prices on the Share list beyond any previous market of the present active season. Before the early Board the street prices were rapidly advanced on the last bidding of Thursday, but at the Board the extreme figures were not in all cases maintained. Thus Harlem sold at 106¼ ₱ cent. on the Street, and opened at 104 ₱ cent. at the Board, as against 99 last night. On the other hand, the demand for Michigan Southern, which closed at 70 last night, carried up the price to 73½ ₱ cent., the sales reaching about 12,000 shares. Next to these two Stocks, the excitement ran highest on Cleveland and Pittsburgh. The last price of Thursday was 89 ₱ cent.; the first sales this morning 88 ₱ cent., from which the advance was to 94 per cent. in the afternoon. On the other Western Roads, and also on Erie and Hudson, a large business was done at advancing figures, as compared with Thursday's sales, though the extreme rise was not maintained at the Afternoon Board. There was not much done in United States Stocks of the old Loans; the subscriptions to the new Loan of 1882 amount for the day to $1,152,750. Treasury paper was steady at previous figures, and Missouri 6 ₱ cents advanced 2@2½ ₱ cent.

At 4 o'clock, after the adjournment of the Second Board, the following prices were made, as compared with Thursday night, the market leaving off firm. The advance in Harlem was not maintained. Michigan Southern and Cleveland and Pittsburgh advanced 2 ₱ cent. on the Second Board sales.

We have been requested to call attention to the advertisement of the Importers' and Traders' Insurance Company. The premium receipts of the Company for the past four months have been about twice as large as during the same period of 1862, and the Company has a surplus equal to 15 ₱ cent on its capital. The stock of the company sold at auction last week at 100.

The Imports of Foreign Dry Goods, at the port of New-York, were ending May 7, were $1,084,594 against $679,826 same week last year, and $890,040 the corresponding week of 1861. The following is the summary for the week:

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

An important proclamation has been issued by the President, defining the duties of persons of foreign birth, under the Conscription act. In order that all misapprehensions concerning the liability of persons who have declared their intention to become citizens may be avoided, he orders that no plea of alienage shall be received from such person who shall be found within the United States at any time during the continuance of the rebellion, after the expiration of the period of sixty-five days from the date of the Proclamation; and further, that no such plea of alienage shall be allowed in favor of any such person, who has exercised at any time the right of suffrage or other political franchise.

Gen. HOOKER's army has again occupied its old position north of the Rappahannock, and the present "situation" is stated in a dispatch from the Secretary of War to Gov. CURTIN, of Pennsylvania, dated yesterday, and published this morning. He says that the principal operations of Gen. HOOKER failed, but that there has been no serious disaster to the organization or efficiency of the army, which succeeded in recrossing the Rappahannock without any loss in the movement. Not more than one-third of Gen. HOOKER'S forces were engaged in the late battles. The Secretary further says that the army will speedily resume offensive operations—probably as soon as the wounded are properly cared for, which will soon be done. Nearly a thousand arrived in Washington yesterday from Aquia Creek. Our losses are not yet definitely ascertained, but the estimate of 18,000 is given by our correspondents. The loss of the rebels is put down by the same correspondent as at least 25,000.

Capt. SUMNER, Gen. STONEMAN'S Aid, arrived at headquarters of the Army of the Potomac on Thursday, having left his chief in the morning of that day. He confirms the destruction of all the enemy's railroad communications with Richmond, and reports that one party extended their operations to the James River, destroying the Lynchburgh Canal. Three regiments were also detached to destroy the railroad communications across the Chickahominy River, with orders to proceed subsequently to Yorktown. A dispatch from Yorktown, dated the 7th, announces the arrival of this force at Gloucester Point, on the York River, after having fully accomplished this object of their mission, and having been within three miles of Richmond.

It is stated that before Gen. HOOKER commenced his recent movement he telegraphed to the War Department that he had "no further requisitions to make, and that he expected no further orders."

Brig.-Gen. AVERILL was not put under arrest when ordered to report to Washington. He was simply relieved of his command.

We have this morning Admiral PORTER'S official dispatch to the Government announcing the capture of Grand Gulf, on the Mississippi. Accounts, both rebel and our own, of the first attack upon the place have already been published. On the 3d inst. Admiral PORTER'S gunboats—the Lafayette, Carondelet, Mound City and Pittsburgh—proceeded to make a second attack, when the works were found to be evacuated, the enemy having blown up their ammunition and spiked their large guns. The works were found to be very extensive and strong, but were literally torn to pieces by the fire of the gunboats. Col. WADE, the commander of the batteries, was killed; also his Chief of Staff and a number of others. Admiral PORTER considers Grand Gulf a stronger position than either Vicksburgh or Port Hudson, and thinks it could not have been captured had the fortifications been completed.

Dispatches in the rebel journals, dated Natchez, Miss., April 1, deny the reports which they previously circulated, that Gen. BANKS had captured Alexandria. They say that he has not been within fifty miles of there.

Gen. STOUGHTON, who has just been released from captivity among the rebels, brings the report, current in the rebel capital, that during the recent attack by our iron-clads upon Fort Sumter, one shell from the Montauk passed completely through the fort—through both walls—and fell in the water on the opposite side. Several very bad breaches were made. The rebels say that if the firing had been continued twenty-five minutes longer the fort would have surrendered. The fire from our gunboats and iron-clads was terrific. In the city every preparation had been made for evacuation. Negroes had been sent out, moveables packed up, women and children sent off, and everything made ready for departure.

According to the Wheeling Intelligencer, the raiding force into West Virginia is divided as follows: JONES has with him the Sixth, Seventh, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth Virginia cavalry—not full regiments. He has also with him the Maryland line of infantry and two sections of a battery. In all 5,000 men. IMBODEN has with him the Nineteenth, Twenty-fifth, Thirty-first and Sixty-second Virginia regiments of infantry, the First regiment of Virginia cavalry and six guns. In all 3,000 men. On Wednesday night it was not known certainly where this force was. Good authority said it was between Phillippi and Beverly, and good authority said it was around Weston.

Our Havana correspondent states that considerable excitement existed there at the date of his letter—the 3d inst.—in consequence of reports regarding the proceedings of United States cruisers in the Cuban waters. It was alleged that vessels had been chased within the marine jurisdiction of the Spanish authorities. There does not appear to be any good foundation for the allegation, however. The blockade runners continue quite active—the British steamer Neptune having arrived at Havana from Mobile on the 1st, loaded with cotton; and the Calypso and Antonio at Nassau, on the 25th ult., from Charleston, also with cargoes of cotton.

GENERAL NEWS.

We have advices from the headquarters of the French Expeditionary forces in Mexico to the 12th ult., by way of Havana. At that time, according to the French accounts, Gen. FOREY had succeeded in gaining possession of all the City of Puebla, excepting the space between the last barricades and the forts of Guadalupe and Loreto. Gen. FOREY is said to be quite satisfied with his progress.

The reception of the Fifth Regiment, New-York Volunteers, (DURYEE'S ZOUAVES,) by the Municipal authorities and the citizens of the Metropolis yesterday, was extremely cordial. The Seventy-first and Thirty-seventh regiments of militia, and the Tenth Volunteers, Col. BENDIX, turned out in the procession, and in the evening a Municipal banquet was given at the City Assembly Rooms, at which Alderman FARLEY presided, and strong Union speeches were made by Col. WARREN, Col. BENDIX, Gen. WALBRIDGE, Gen. DURYEE, Col. BUCKINGHAM and others.

About 2 o'clock yesterday morning an affray occurred at a porter-house kept by JOSEPH H. NIXON, at No. 68 Oliver-street, during which a boarding-house runner, named PATRICK MCGOVERN, was fatally shot in the left eye with a pistol, in the hands of JAMES O'HARA. MCGOVERN was taken to the New-York Hospital, where he died in a short time. Coroner RANNEY held an inquest upon his body yesterday. O'HARA had not been arrested at a late hour last night.

The ship Punjaub, which was captured by the Alabama and bonded, was owned by Messrs. T. B. WALES & Co., of Boston, and she is the third ship belonging to the same owners which has been captured by the rebel pirates. One of them, the T. B. Wales, was burnt, and the others, the Morning Star and Punjaub, released on bonds given by their captains.

In the Court of Oyer and Terminer, before Judge INGRAHAM, GARRET LAUNDRESS was convicted of manslaughter in the third degree, for causing the death, by stabbing, of JOHN CAIN, at No. 25 Washington-street, on the 19th of March last. The prisoner was sentenced to the State Prison for three years. ASA CROSBY, convicted on the 6th inst., of manslaughter in the second degree, was sentenced to five years in the State Prison.

In the Court of Sessions, before Judge MCCUNN, WILLIAM HEGNER was convicted of grand larceny, and remanded for sentence. ERNEST HUMBOLDT pleaded guilty to grand larceny, and GEO. LANGDON to assault and battery, and both were remanded.

The price of Gold Coin fell off 3 ₱ cent. yesterday, on the improved feeling in regard to the Army of the Potomac. Exchange, 166@167 ₱ cent. Money active at 6 ₱ cent. Stocks excited, and the speculation on the Share list very active, at generally firm prices. The subscriptions to the United States Loan were $1,152,750.

Breadstuffs, Provisions, Oils and Cotton were less sought after, yesterday, though prices favored buyers. Sugars, Teas, Molasses, Fruit, Ingot Copper, Pig Lead and Fire Crackers attracted more attention. Hay, Rice, Fish and Tallow were in fair request. The Freight market was less active.

The Cry for the Recall of McClellan.

We can tell the imps of faction who are shrieking for the restoration of MCCLELLAN that their wind is wasted. The thing cannot and will not be done. The Government has not lost its memory, nor the people their senses. There is an intelligent purpose yet to save this nation. There is a firmer resolve than ever to trust to agents equal to that end, and to those only. There is no more possibility that GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN, after the experience had of him, should be called back to the head of the army, than that JAMES BUCHANAN should be called back to the Executive Chair. The people have bidden a grim good-night to all imbeciles.

The impudence of this outcry against Gen. HOOKER for MCCLELLAN is monstrous. They, the supporters of the man who, more than any other, is responsible for the movement across the Potomac which occasioned the Ball's Bluff disaster—the man who, against the urgent warning of high officers, so divided his army at Fair Oaks, with the swollen Chickahominy between, whereby one portion was decimated and well nigh overwhelmed before the other could come to their support—the man who, at Gaines' Mills, stationed, or rather failed to withdraw, a corps across the river, though he had full warning that it was to be attacked by a force of three times the number, the consequence of which was a battle lost and nine thousand of as fine fellows as ever breathed wounded and dead in their tracks—they, the supporters of this man, have the effrontery to vituperate Gen. HOOKER for recrossing the Rappahannock when its swollen and extraordinary rise was endangering his position, and to demand the restoration of their favorite. They do this, too, at the very first breath, without stopping to hear a word about the actual reasons for the movement. While other men are seeing in it, or, at least, are hoping to find in it gratifying evidence that Gen. HOOKER, who is known to have every other high military quality, possesses also the quality of high prudence, which many feared did not belong to his temperament, and while too they are admiring the masterly ability with which the movement, supposing it to be necessary, was executed, these followers of MCCLELLAN take no thought but how they can turn the matter to his advantage, and forthwith make the day hideous with their clamor. Even if it should finally be made to appear, which we do not at all believe, that Gen. HOOKER, in some particular misjudged, yet any decent man would say that that was no reason for his sacrifice, inasmuch as the Commander never yet lived who did not sometimes make mistakes. But that the believers in MCCLELLAN, whose whole career, from beginning to end, was thick with mistakes of commission and omission, and whom yet the people continued to trust, with a generous indulgence that will hereafter stand as the greatest marvel in the history of this war—that these men, we say, should raisy this cry for the dismissal of Gen. HOOKER at his very first mistake, allowing that he has made one, is the very extreme of shamelessness. It is ridiculous; it is more than that—it is disgusting.

The people, these creatures may rely upon it, will stick by HOOKER, until he is thoroughly tried and found wanting. They know that his heart is completely in the war—that he abhors and detests rebels and the sympathizers with rebels—that he will hold no bosom counsel with the Fitz John Porters of the service, or intrust them with any responsibility—that he would sooner touch the plague than the leprous hands daily grasped by MCCLELLAN. They know, too, that Gen. HOOKER is a man of action. They are sure that this Summer, whatever its vicissitudes, will at least show a very different spectacle in Virginia from the last—that there will be no month lost in sitting with a hundred thousand men before earthworks at Yorktown, manned by ten thousand, that could be carried in a day—no consumption of a fortnight in marching by an unobstructed road forty or fifty miles from Williamsburgh to the Chickahominy—no lingering for six weeks in the swamps of the Chickahominy with hardly a blow struck on the offensive, while tens of thousands were sinking into an inglorious grave from the deadly malaria—no failure to take prompt advantage of such opportunities to seize the rebel Capital as were offered at Williamsburgh, at Fair Oaks and at Malvern Hill—and no neglect to follow up such a victory as that at Antietam with pursuit and a permanently crippling blow. All that sort of dawdling is now done with. Moreover, the people believe that HOOKER will make such dispositions of his army as will avoid such an unconcerted and disorderly engagement as that at Williamsburgh; such a surprise without the means of retreat, as that at Fair Oaks; such a disposition of forces as occasioned 27,000 men at Gaines' Mills to be pounced upon by 70,000, and well nigh overwhelmed; such a precipitate and tumultuous retreat as that from Malvern Hill to Harrison Bar, and such a delay in occupying defensible ground as at Harrison's Bar, where nothing but a heavy rain, impeding the movement of the enemy's artillery, prevented the absolute destruction of the army. They also are confident that the battles which HOOKER will fight will be overlooked, in the manner of Napoleon and Wellington, by himself on the field of battle, and that thus he will be ready on the instant to seize the critical moment, whether to avert disasters or secure triumph; and that he will not, after the manner of MCCLELLAN, either keep out of the sight of the combat altogether, as was done in every battle on the Peninsula, or view it, as was done at Antietam, on a camp stool a mile or two away, the other side of the river.

The idea that earnest "Fighting JOE HOOKER" is, at this stage of the business, to be sent out of the field, and the frigid pedant, MCCLELLAN, to be brought up to the rescue, is superlatively absurd. Nothing but a half-insane, half-traitorous craving to turn him to party account, could have ever started such a vagary. The devotees of MCCLELLAN are doing him no service in thrusting him forward in this unseemly style. The Government has bidden him go in peace; and as for the people, they are perfectly content he should eat his salt with the Copperheads in perfect quiet. This war has done with him, and it is the war alone they care for. But if his friends are not content that he should remain where he belongs, and shall insist upon subjecting him to public scrutiny and comment, he will be dealt with in such fashion as sternest truth requires.

Necessity of Reserves.

The policy of the Government in regard to raising and using armies, is open to a criticism that does little credit to its military sagacity or its resources. It is not too much to say that an immediate reform is imperatively demanded, not only for the honor, but for the success of our arms. We allude to the utter want of any reserved force, upon which the country can fall back in case of disaster.

It is strange that the public Press should find it necessary to protest against this anomaly in war making, when the management of our military affairs is supposed to be in the hands of experienced and competent military men. But the lack of provision in this matter is glaring, notorious, and long-continued.

We have had three signal instances, in front of Washington, of the fighting of great battles without the presence of a reserve to prosecute a victory, or, in case of defeat, to prevent a disaster. When Gen. POPE fought at Manassas he was obliged to put every regiment in his lines of battle that the Government could give him. If he had been able to withstand the enemy, he could not have advanced, or if he had defeated him, he could not have pursued. As it was, he was beaten, and his shattered columns sought safety in the fortunately near defences of Washington, carrying, however, panic to the Capital, and filling the heart of the nation with deep concern and alarm.

The same thing happened at Fredericksburgh. BURNSIDE had to use all the army the Government could give him. He threw it across the river and against the battery-crowned heights of Fredericksburgh, but in vain. He retreated, and saved his army almost by a miracle. Every patriot who knows anything of the history of war still trembles to think how that army was imperiled, remembering that there was no reserve at hand to save the country if that army had been lost.

This sad blunder has been just repeated on the Rappahannock. Gen. HOOKER moved his whole army against the enemy. He became involved in unexpected topographical difficulties—he lost his original line of battle from this and other causes—and then the fight was lost. The enemy pushed his advantage, and HOOKER had no reserves nearer than HEINTZELMAN'S Corps in the Washington defences to reform upon and retrieve his misfortune. A retreat was sounded and a river crossed again in the face of the enemy, as in BURNSIDE'S case. These are shocking perils, and it is utter madness to run them, when the nation can furnish a million soldiers to fight battles and form reserves, so that battles may be fought successfully and safely.

SPIRIT OF THE ARMY.—From gentlemen who arrived here yesterday from HOOKER'S army, and from our correspondents, we have the most cheering news regarding the condition and spirit of the Army of the Potomac since the soldiers have returned to their former cantonments. The army has lost heavily within the last eight days—probably not less than one-eighth of its effective force; but it is still inspired in the highest degree with the soldierly spirit and instinct with every soldierly feeling. There was no straggling on the return from Chancellorsville to Falmouth, but the men marched with the light of battle in the eye, and with a tread as orderly, firm and proud as that with which they set out for the combat, a week previously. So far as they are concerned, they are ready at once to renew the fight, and strike another blow for victory and the Union. Our citizens yesterday had an opportunity to see the stuff, discipline and spirit of the men, as DURYEE'S splendid regiment of returned Zouaves marched up Broadway. These were men fresh from the bloody battle-field. They were men whom no fortune could demoralize.

A Movement of Some Importance.

We published yesterday morning the proceedings of a Democratic meeting held at Mozart Hall on Thursday evening. It was emphatically a peace meeting—and it took action which committed all concerned in it to a speedy and unconditional termination of the war,—leaving the question of preserving the Union to the chances of future diplomatic arrangements. The last two in the series of resolutions adopted at this meeting were as follows:

Resolved, That the paper lately issued at Albany, purporting to be the address of the Democratic members of the Legislature, has no binding effect upon the Democracy of this City or vicinity, because our members, whose names were without authority attached to it, did not sign and do not concur in it, and because said paper advocates a continuance of the war under the policy of the Administration, with all its objects, outrages and unconstitutional purposes. We call upon the members of this City to publicly disavow it, or we shall disavow them.

Resolved, That in view of this attempt at Albany to place the Democratic party of the State in a false position as favoring a continuance of the war, we are glad to learn that the masses composing the Democratic prty will meet in a State Convention at an early day, to the end that they may express their own opinions upon this great question, independent of the selfish clique which has so long ruled and ruined the party organization of the Empire State.

This language shows that the movement is nothing less than a secession of the Peace Democrats, of whom FERNANDO WOOD is leader, from the Democratic party in the State at large. We spoke of the legislative address at the time it was issued, as committing the party to the vigorous prosecution of the war. We believe that in this it expressed the sentiments of the great body of the Democratic party in this State. But it very clearly repudiated utterly the Copperheadism which has obtained a lodgment in the party, and which has more than once assumed to speak on its behalf. Previous to the State election of last Fall, everything looked as if the Peace men had obtained control of the Democracy. FERNANDO WOOD, who has more energy and more courage than all the rest of his party put together, had dictated the terms of a union with Tammany Hall. He had exercised a potent control over the action of the State Convention. He aided essentially in securing the triumph of the State ticket, and the most conspicuous organs of Tammany Hall united in insisting that he should be the candidate of the party for the United States Senatorship. But after the election was over things, took a different turn. The language of the rebel Press, and the general current of events, proved conclusively that the abject offers of Northern Democrats for terms of peace, were spurned with contempt by the leaders of the Southern rebellion. It was seen, moreover, that in spite of their discontent with the conduct of the war, the great mass of the people of the Northern States would never consent to the destruction of the National Government until their physical power had proved inadequate to preserve it. Then the control of the Democratic party passed into the hands of men who believed in a vigorous prosecution of the war, until the rebellion should be crushed and the Union restored. This is the sentiment of the Democratic Legislative address.

Naturally enough, WOOD, BROOKS, and their associates are not content with this state of affairs. They are for peace—without conditions and without delay. They believe that thousands and tens of thousands of the Democratic party throughout this State concur with them in this opinion, and they propose, therefore, to take an appeal from the language of the legislative address, and from the general tenor of Democratic opinions, and to organize a party of their own on the basis of immediate and unconditional peace. It seems from the above resolutions that a State Convention is soon to be called, and that steps will be taken to organize a party on this basis throughout the State.

We cannot say that we are sorry to see this movement commenced. It will give definite form to the peace sentiment of the State. It will enable those who really sympathize with the secession movement to put their sympathy into tangible shape. And it will, furthermore, enable those Democrats who are not for an unconditional peace, to escape the embarrassment of a compromising association with those who are.

MR. ADAMS AND BRITISH TRADE WITH MEXICO.—The Courrier des Etats Unis joins the Paris Press in denouncing the action of our Minister in England, in giving a certificate of character to a British vessel bound to Mexico, as hostile to France in her war with that country. It says that "the phrase in which Mr. ADAMS declares that a vessel loaded with arms for the Mexicans has an honorable destination, is, to say the least, strange language to come from the pen of the representative of a nation at peace with France."

We beg to remind the Courrier that no such phrase is to be found in the letter of Mr. ADAMS. There is not a word or a syllable in that document which indicates, or makes it probable, that he knew that the cargo of the vessel in question consisted of arms or of anything else contraband of war. Whether the vessel had, or had not, any such articles on board, we do not know. We have seen no evidence of that fact—nothing indeed beyond the statements of the London Times and of one or two members of the House of Commons, who evidently knew nothing of the matter but what they had read in that journal. The general assumption, we are aware, on both sides the water have been that the vessel was thus loaded. We ourselves took it for granted at the outset that this was so. But we have seen no proof whatever upon the subject.

Whatever the fact may have been, it is quite clear, from the tenor of the note of Mr. ADAMS, that he did not know that the vessel was carrying arms, and that he had not the slightest thought of authorizing any commerce in contraband of war. His note was addressed to Admiral DUPONT, Commander of our blockading squadron on the Southern coast. He speaks of the fact that supplies had frequently been taken to the rebels under pretext of a destination to some Mexican port. It was this point that he sought to guard against. It was the actual, bona fide destination of the vessel and her cargo to which his attention was directed; and he merely certifies that he is satisfied the vessel is actually bound for Matamoras, and her cargo really intended for the Mexicans, instead of the rebels. There is not a syllable which implies any knowledge or suspicion on his part, that the cargo embraced any arms or munitions of war, or that it was intended in any way to carry such supplies to the Mexican army. He was simply guarding American interests, and trying to provide against a violation or evasion of our blockade.

But even if the vessel did carry arms to aid the Mexicans against France, and if it was thus a violation of neutrality, the responsibility rests with the British and not with U. S. Mr. ADAMS had nothing whatever to do with that aspect of the question. The ship was a British ship, sailing from a British port, with British papers and under the British flag;—and if she was violating any neutrality it was British neutrality, and not ours. It was a British vessel that was thus seeking to arm the Mexicans against the French Emperor;—and the hue and cry which the British Press is raising on the subject is merely intended to conceal the real responsibility of British traders and the British Government for this flagrant breach of faith toward a friend and ally.

Sound Doctrine.

The Journal of Commerce, commenting on the recent failure on the Rappahannock, and on the effect which that event should have on the progress of the war, says that some persons seem driven to despair by this misfortune and already begin to whisper about "settling the matter and dividing the Union." Upon this point the Journal says:

"We protest against all such suggestion. We call on conservative men in all parts of the land to raise their voices now against every proposal for peace and disunion. It is the time when lofty patriotism demands the greatest sacrifices; when the American heart must be roused to the noblest actions. We know that the future is dark with the leadership which we have, and must have; but we know that the true, the only, principle of action now is firm, unwavering support of the Constitution and the constitutional authorities; and if the people speak out in their might to-day, their voice will be heard, and the war will yet be made to result in the overthrow of rebellion, while the peaceful contents of the ballot-box will result in the everlasting demolition of the radicalism which has plunged us into this new abyss of sorrow. Every energy must now be strengthened and exerted. What will you do if you think of disunion? Do you know what will become of Missouri, of brave, noble, faithful old Kentucky, of Maryland, of Washington itself? If you could do nothing more than stand on the defensive and hold your lines from the Atlantic to the Pacific against the hosts of our enemies for two years, until we can place a stronger Administration in power, you must do that. But you can do more than that. It is not a party war, it is not a radical war, it is not an abolition war, strong as the efforts have been, of the radical party, to make it such. It is your country's war, and the peace to be won must be a Union peace. That and that alone must be the aim, the desire, the vow of every true man."

This is just and manly language. It is the ground which every man who is loyal to the country and the Constitution must occupy; and we hail it from the Journal of Commerce as another proof of the substantial union of the American people, without regard to party, on the main issue of prosecuting the war until the rebellion is quelled. The Journal opposes, vehemently and vigorously, many of the measures of the Administration. It declares its lack of faith in the men who compose it, and declares its purpose to do everything in its power to secure the election of others in their place. All this it has a perfect right to do. But while they are in power, it accepts the duty of sustaining them in their efforts for the preservation of the Union and the overthrow of the rebel power which threatens it with destruction.

We are confident that this is the sentiment and the purpose of the great body of the people of the Northern States, Democrats and Republicans; and nothing is needed but the clear, distinct declaration of this hearty and unanimous determination of the people, and prompt and vigorous measures to give it effect, to achieve the overthrow of the rebellion and restore the supremacy of the national flag. We can not only afford to waive for the time all differences of opinion on minor points, but we cannot afford to do otherwise.

Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—VERDI'S ever popular opera of "Ernani" was given here last evening, to a house that was by far the best of the week. It is a favorite work with our public, and there are enthusiasts who claim that it is the only meritorious production of the composer. When rendered as it was last night, it is certainly one of the most spirited operas on the Italian stage. Signor MAZZOLENI, and Signor BIACHI and Signor BELLINI, equally excellent in their roles, were in themselves an ensemble sufficient to insure the success of the performance. But when the chorus and orchestra were good as they were last night, the combination is little less than electrical. The finale to the first act had to be repeated, and during the evening the audience expressed its satisfaction by repeated bursts of applause. Mme. GUERRABELLA was the Elvira of the occasion.

To-day, at the grand Matinée VERDI'S new opera of "Aroldo" will be played for the last time. It is a feast for the eye as well as the ear. The dresses are superb, and even some of the new scenery is worth looking at. The musical portion of the entertainment is, of course, admirable. It is only now, indeed, that the opera is in thorough working order. Signora ORTALANI BRIGNOLI, Signor MAZZOLENI, Signor BELLINI, and other artists of the troupe, are in the distribution.

WALLACK'S THEATRE.—Mr. LESTER WALLACK, the most useful, agreeable, reliable, gentlemanly and accomplished light comedian in America, and an artist who—let the little ones sneer as they will—is the life and soul of the establishment over which he presides, takes his benefit to-night. The occasion is sure to be seized with delight by the very large class that indorses our estimate of the beneficiare, and a single word of urging would simply be thrown away. We shall content ourselves, therefore, with announcing that the play selected for the occasion is the "Stranger"—a work which requires nearly all the artists of the Company in its performance. The distribution, to-night, is faultless.

IRVING HALL.—Mr. THEODOR THOMAS' annual concert, to which we have already referred, takes place to-night. The orchestral works, which will be interpreted by an orchestra of eighty players, are the overture to the "Magic Flute," by MOZART; "Harold in Italy," symphony in four parts, by HECTOR BERLIOZ, (first time in America,) and the Symphony No. 5, in C minor, opus 67, by BEETHOVEN. Madame D'ANGRI is the vocalist of the occasion, and will sing a cavatina from "Tancrede," and an aria from "Romeo and Juliet." Mr. S. B. MILLS, the celebrated pianist, will play CHOPIN'S polonaise in E flat, op. 22. A programme like this is indeed a luxury. It excels in all respects the most favored issues of the Philharmonic Society. We hope Mr. THOMAS will meet with the success to which he is justly entitled.

LAURA KEENE'S THEATRE.—MATILDA HERON will take a benefit at this house to-night, appearing in her own version of the classic play of "Phædra," and also, with Mr. BANDMANN, (the German actor,) as Portia, in the "Merchant of Venice." In addition to this strong attraction, Señora CUBAS will give one of her brilliant Spanish dances.

It has been severely tested in United States hospitals and private families in New-York and Brooklyn. Put up in quart bottles. Price $1. For sale by Hegeman & Co., Nos. 223 366, 511, 756 Broadway; J. & I. Coddington, No. 713 Broadway; John Meakim, No. 679 Broadway; Thomas Bailey, Bible House, and many others.

Costiveness.—No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails, and no one can expect to enjoy health permanently who permits it, for it is contrary to the economy of the system, and gives rise to a goodly proportion of the ills which afflict the human race. To neglect it, therefore, is to insure ill health of greater or less duration; yet, in attempting its removal, discrimination with regard to the remedies to be used is requisite. Violent purgatives temporarily remove obstructions, weaken the bowels, and reduce the strength of the patient, and are followed usually by greater constipation, rendering another and another dose necessary, until even the strongest purgatives lose their effect, and the patient's condition becomes deplorable. What is required is a gentle purgative—one having some action on the liver, and one that can be taken daily without lessening the strength of the patient, or injury to the system, until the tendency to constipation is removed. But few remedies have been found to meet these requirements, and of these few probably none have been so successful, as demonstrated by many years' use, as Dr. D. JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS. They are usually taken every night at bedtime, causing, in proper doses, no inconvenience during the night, and producing no sickness or unpleasant effect during the day, so that persons may follow their usual avocations, whether of business or pleasure, in the same manner as if they had not taken the Pills. Their good effect will begin to be obvious after a week or two's use, particularly in greater clearness of mind, and an increased energy and disposition to work and to enjoy life, and their continued use in the rectification of the health to the patient. Sold by KITCHEN, TYLER & CO., and at retail by Druggists generally.

CERTIFICATES.

This is to certify that, about eighteen months ago, I commenced using STERLING'S AMBROSIA. My hair was short, thin, and rapidly falling out. I had tried many Hair Tonics, Invigorators, &c., without receiving any benefit. Soon after using the Ambrosia, my hair ceased falling out, and commenced growing so rapidly as to astonish me. Now, my hair is thick, soft and glossy, and is five feet four inches in length—when let down, reaching to the floor. This wonderful result I attribute solely to the use of STERLING'S AMBROSIA, as since I commenced using it I have applied nothing else to my hair.

CATARRH.

DR. LIGHTHILL, No. 34 St. Mark's-place, (Eighth-street,) can be consulted daily (Sundays excepted) from 10 A. M. until 3 P. M. Patients will not be received except during the regular office hours, unless in cases of emergency or by special arrangement. Parties residing at a distance are hereby informed that a personal examination is requisite in every case before a correct opinion can be given or appropriate treatment prescribed. Letters of Consultation must contain Five Dollars, otherwise they will remain unnoticed.

Dr. Lighthill's recent work, "A Popular Treatise on Deafness—Its Causes and Prevention," may be obtained of Carleton, Publisher, No. 413 Broadway, or of any respectable bookseller. Price $1.

NEW TESTIMONIALS

NEW-YORK, April 18, 1863.

A little daughter of mine has been affected with a troublesome discharge from both ears, the result of scarlet fever. Dr. Lighthill, under whose care I placed her, has removed the discharge completely, and improved her hearing. W. H. RAYNOR, No. 6 Pine-st.

From Rev. John Nott, D. D., Professor in Union College, Schenectady.

SCHENECTADY, Jan. 17, 1863.

Dr. Lighthill—

SIR: Having been cured by you of a discharge in an ear, which has been very offensive of late, and as far back as I can remember, always more or less so; and having been entirely restored to hearing since under your care, I feel that I cannot withhold this acknowledgment from any use it may be to others, especially as I have applied in vain to my family physician and other physicians of reputation. Yours, truly, JOHN NOTT.

CATARRH CURED.

From Rev. P. R. Russell, Lynn, Mass.

I have been much troubled with catarrh of the worst type for some twenty years. It gradually grew worse, producing cough and hoarseness, destroying the sense of smell, and breaking down my general health to such a degree as to compel me to resign my pastorate, and suspend public speaking.

I made diligent use of the usual remedies, such as snuffs of different kinds, nitrate of silver, tar water, olive tar and inhalations, but without any very salutary effects. Last Summer I heard of Dr. Lighthill's successful mode of treating catarrh, visited him, and put myself under his treatment. I began immediately to improve, and this improvement has gone on to the present time. My catarrh has gradually melted away, my cough has disappeared, my voice has become natural, and I am once more able to preach the blessed Gospel. Let me advise all troubled with catarrhal difficulties to apply to Dr. Lighthill.
P. R. RUSSELL.

LYNN, Mass., Feb. 1, 1862.

NEW-YORK, June 29, 1862.

Dr. Lighthill:

DEAR SIR: I am pleased to be able to testify to the efficacy of your treatment in the case of my wife, whose hearing in one ear you succeeded in restoring, after treatment of various kinds had been applied in vain. I may furthermore state that her hearing remains good up to the present time, though it is several years, since she has been under your care. E. CLAYBURGH, No. 141 Duane-st.

No. 740 WATER-ST., NEW-YORK, June 5, 1862.

Dr. Lighthill has succeeded in completely restoring my hearing, which was seriously impaired, although previous to applying to him I was treated by several physicians without the least benefit. Any further information I should be pleased to render on application to me at my residence, No. 173 Second-st., Brooklyn, E. D., or at my place of business, No. 740 Water-st.
WM. H. WATERBURY.

NEW-YORK, July 28, 1862.

I hereby certify that I have suffered during many years from trouble in hearing—one ear at last became entirely deaf, and the other so bad as to render conversation very difficult. I applied to Dr. Lighthill, of No. 34 St. Mark's-place, who, in a short time, and without pain, restored to me the use of my ears, so that I can now hear perfectly well. J. BISCO, No. 186 East 23d-st.

METROPOLITAN HOTEL, NEW-YORK, April 1, 1862.

DEAR SIR: I take much pleasure in testifying to the professional skill exhibited by you in your treatment of a case of severe inflammation of the throat and ear with which I have lately been afflicted. Upon coming under your charge I was immediately relieved and speedily cured of a most aggravated complaint, which several physicians had previously sought in vain to mitigate.

As I am somewhat of a stranger in the City, I would state that you are at liberty to substantiate my statements, if necessary, by reference to my relatives, Mr. A. V. Stout, President of the Shoe and Leather Bank of New-York, and to Mr. Everett Clapp, of the Western Transportation Company, No. 1 Coenties-slip.
With much esteem, I am, sir,
Your obedient servant,
FRED. M. HANKS.
To Dr. LIGHTHILL, No. 34 St. Marks-place, New-York.

No. 12 CORTLANDT-ST., NEW-YORK, Jan. 2, 1863.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL—Dear Sir: It is with the kindest feelings toward you, and hoping to do service to some one who is afflicted, that I forward the inclosed document to you.

To whom it may concern: I am personally acquainted with the success which attended Dr. Lighthill's treatment in a case of discharge from the ear and chronic inflammation of the throat, and would be pleased to give further information on application.
V. D. W. WEEKES.

No. 73 GRAND-ST., NEWBURGH, N. Y., Dec. 23, 1862.

I placed my wife under the care of Dr. Lighthill for deafness in one ear of nearly three years' standing, accompanied by constant noises. I am happy to state that her hearing is now entirely restored, and the noises removed. Those residing in New-York who are desirous of further information may apply to my brother-in-law, Capt. William Edwards, at No. 95 East 34th-st., who is acquainted with the circumstances of the case.
FRANCIS GOULDY.

I have been suffering for some time with noise in my head, and deafness. Having applied to Dr. Lighthill, I have great pleasure in saying that he has completely relieved me, so that now I can hear as well as ever, and am not troubled with the noise in my head.

I may also mention that a young man named Henry Laws, staying with me, was also afflicted in a similar manner, and Dr. Lighthill was equally successful in his case. JOHN MURDOCK, No. 197 Fulton-st.
BROOKLYN, Jan. 2, 1863.

No. 42 FIFTH-ST., NEW-YORK, June 25, 1862.

DR. LIGHTHILL—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in testifying to the remarkable skill and judgment you displayed in the case of my daughter, who had been partially deaf, accompanied by discharge from the ears, since early infancy, and is now, thanks to your treatment, able to hear as well as any one, while her ears are free from the discharge. Although it is nearly two years since she has been under your care, her hearing remains as good, and her ears as sound, as the day she left you.

Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,

CATARRH CURED
BY
DR. VON EISENBERG.

Author of "Surgical and Practical Observations on the Diseases of the Ear, with his new Mode of Treatment."

NEW TESTIMONY.

"NEW-YORK, May 6.

I was entirely deaf in my left ear, accompanied by a discharge. I placed myself under Dr. VON EISENBERG's care, who, by his great skill, restored me to perfect hearing, in the short space of a few minutes, without giving me the slightest pain, and the discharge has ceased entirely. The Eustachian Tube, which was obliterated, is quite open, and I feel that the air-passage performs its functions. I am amply satisfied, and recommend every one suffering from impaired hearing to place themselves under the treatment of this eminent and successful physician.
THOMAS GRANAN, No. 539 6th-av."

"NEW-YORK, May 7, 1863.

I have great pleasure to testify to the skill of Dr. VON EISENBERG. I went into his office almost completely deaf, and came out with my perfect hearing. It is nearly twelve months since, and the hearing is perfect. The operation, which lasted two or three minutes in each of my ears, gave me no pain whatsoever. I, with confidence, recommend all sufferers to place themselves under Dr. VON EISENBERG's unsurpassing skill.
SAMUEL C. HUNT,
No. 6 Meserole-av., Greenpoint, L. I."

WEST HOUSTON-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain. JOHN TAYLOR,

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.
CARROLL J. POST, No. 29 South-st.

No. 188 MERCER-ST., NEW-YORK.

J. E. VON EISENBERG, M. D.—Dear Doctor: I have been afflicted with total deafness, and was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine my delight when, after one operation, my hearing was suddenly, and without pain, restored to me, for which I feel very grateful. After being totally deaf—almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense—to have it returned, and to hear so distinctly, reflects great credit on you for the immense amount of skill you possess. I beg to thank you for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ

NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

USEFUL AND VALUABLE DISCOVERY!
HILTON'S INSOLUBLE CEMENT
Is of more general practical utility than any invention now before the public. It has been thoroughly tested during the last two years by practical men, and pronounced by all to be Superior to any Adhesive Preparation known.

HILTON'S INSOLUBLE CEMENT
Is a new thing, and the result of years of study; the combination is on
SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLES,
And under no circumstances or change of temperature will it become corrupt or emit any offensive smell.

BOOT AND SHOE
Manufacturers, using Machines, will find it the best article known, for Cementing the Channels, as it works without delay, is not affected by any change of temperature.

JEWELERS
Will find it sufficiently adhesive for their use, as has been proved.

IT IS ESPECIALLY ADAPTED TO LEATHER,
And we claim as an especial merit, that it sticks patches and linings to boots and shoes sufficiently strong without stitching.

IT IS THE ONLY LIQUID CEMENT
Extant that is a sure thing for mending
FURNITURE, CROCKERY, TOYS, BONE, IVORY,
And articles of household use.

REMEMBER HILTON'S INSOLUBLE CEMENT
Is in a liquid form, and as easily applied as paste.
HILTON'S INSOLUBLE CEMENT
Is insoluble in water or oil.
HILTON'S INSOLUBLE CEMENT
adheres oily substances.

AUCTION SALES.

EXECUTOR'S SALE.

THE UNDERSIGNED, AS EXECUTOR OF W. EMILE FIELD, deceased, will in order to close the estate, sell at public auction, on SATURDAY, the 30th day of May, 1863, at 11 o'clock A. M., at the dwelling house on the premises, in the village of Peekskill, the real estate of the said Field usually known as the CAPT. REQUA FARM, situated near the flourishing village of Peekskill, on the Hudson River, the first stopping place of Railroad Express trains North. The place consists of about

TWO HUNDRED ACRES OF FERTILE LAND, on which is a great variety of fruit and shade-trees, and abounds in

ELIGIBLE BUILDING SITES,

with unsurpassed views of the Bay, Highlands and surrounding country.

It is believed that for the number of its beautiful locations, the excellence of its soil, its proximity to schools and churches, conveniences to the River and Railroad, and the extent, variety and beauty of its prospect, this property presents inducements for purchase which are rarely offered.

The property is well adapted for division, being already intersected by avenues, and will be sold in parcels to suit purchasers on accommodating terms. The executor, before the day of public sale, will sell at private sale any portion that may be desired.

For information as to the property, apply to THOMAS NELSON, Esq., No. 55 Liberty-st.; ISAAC SEYMOUR, President of the Bank of North America, No. 44 Wall-st.; D. F. CLAPP, Cashier of Westchester County Bank, Peekskill; or to the subscriber, at Croton Landing.
CYRUS FROST, Executor.

R. W. WESTCOTT, Auctioneer.

N. B.—Men will be in attendance to cart, pack and ship goods for purchasers.

PUBLIC SALE
OF THE SCIOTA AND HOCKING VALLEY RAILROAD.

In pursuance of the judgment of the Court of Common Pleas in and for the County of Perry and State of Ohio, and an order thereunder issued from said Court to me, the undersigned, Receiver and Special Master Commissioner in the action therein pending, wherein Morris Ketchum is plaintiff, and the Sciota and Hocking Valley Railroad Company and others are defendants, I, as Receiver and Special Master Commissioner as aforesaid, on TUESDAY, the 19th day of May, A. D. 1863, at 1 o'clock P. M., at the door of the Court house in the town of New-Lexington, in said county of Perry, will offer for sale by public auction, and sell to the highest bidder, as in fee simple and the absolute ownership thereof, the following property, to wit: The entire Road of the said Railroad Company, whether made and completed or in progress of being made, including the right of way, held and owned by said Railroad Company, wherein said Road is either constructed or in progress of being constructed, and the lands occupied thereby, by whatever right the same may be holden by said Company, together with the superstructure and tracks thereon, and all bridges, viaducts, culverts, fences, depots, grounds and buildings thereon, work-shops and tools therein, and all other franchises, rights and privileges of said Railroad Company, except the franchise to be a Corporation; and including, as a part of said premises, all engines, locomotives, cars of every description, rolling stock, turn-tables, water-station, station-houses, warehouses and lots and lands used in operating said Road and in connection therewith, and owned and held for that purpose, and all tools, implements, materials and supplies, and all shops and engine-houses owned and used in operating said Railroad, as an entirety and in one entire parcel; to be sold upon the terms and conditions in said judgment specified. Appraised at $610,458.

Dated this 6th day of April, A. D. 1863.

J. W. WEBB,
Receiver and Special Master Commissioner.

RROPOSALS.

ARMY SUPPLIES.

OFFICE OF ASSISTANT-COMMISSARY-GENERAL OF SUBSISTENCE, No. 4 State-st., New-York, April 28, 1863.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, at this office, until 4 o'clock P. M., on TUESDAY, the 12th of May, 1863, for furnishing DESICCATED AND COMPRESSED MIXED VEGETABLES, for issue to the United States army for twelve months from the first of November next, at the rate of one hundred and thirty-five thousand pounds per month.

The ingredients of the mixed vegetables furnished under the contracts of the current year are as follows, viz.: To each one hundred pounds of the mixed vegetables, twenty pounds of potatoes, twenty-two pounds of onions, turnips, twenty-two pounds of carrots, ten pounds of cabbage, ten pounds of onions, five pounds of string beans, five pounds of tomatoes, one pound of celery or parsley, and five pounds of rice. As the mixture can undoubtedly be improved by diminishing the quantity of some of the coarser vegetables and increasing some of the others, as well as by introducing some vegetables not heretofore used, proposers are invited to send in proposals with accompanying samples, not only of the mixture as above given, but also of other mixtures, varying therefrom according to the experience and judgment of the proposer, with a view of effecting an improvement in this article of military supply. Proposers are required to give the exact proportions of the different ingredients of their several samples, with price per pound of each, packed as mentioned. When it is practicable, each of the vegetables in a separate state, and after desiccation, will be submitted for inspection. Only those parts of each vegetable commonly used as food will be accepted for the mixture.

The mixed vegetables are to be very compactly compressed into cakes of seven pounds each, ten of these cakes being packed in a tin or zinc box made air-tight, with two of these boxes packed in a wooden box made of suitable seasoned stuff, not less than five-eighths of an inch thick, with sunken ends one inch thick, strengthened with outside lining pieces. Boxes to be strapped with hickory at the ends.

Proposals must, so far as practicable, be accompanied with at least one box as above described, with contents of the proposer's own manufacture of each of the mixtures he may offer to furnish.

The location of the manufacturing establishment must be stated.

There being a choice among the different varieties of vegetables, proposers will state with precision the especial varieties they use, or propose to use, in their mixtures.

Each bid, to have consideration, must contain the written guarantee of two responsible names, as follows:

"We, the undersigned, hereby agree that should all or any part of the above bid be accepted, we will give our bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars that the contract shall be duly fulfilled."

Proposals must be indorsed "Proposals for Dessiccated and Compressed Mixed Vegetables."

A. B. EATON,
Colonel and A. C. S.

OFFICE OF ASSISTANT COMMISSARY-GENERAL OF SUBSISTENCE, No. 4 STATE-ST., NEW-YORK, May 8, 1863.

PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY the undersigned until 4 o'clock P. M., on MONDAY, the 11th inst., for supplying, for the use of the United States Army, SUBSISTENCE STORES, to be delivered in New-York or Brooklyn, as follows, viz.:

1,000 barrels of first quality extra superfine Southern, St. Louis, or other brands of FLOUR, suitable for keeping in a warm climate. The brands and place of manufacture to be stated in the bids, and whether in round or flat hoop barrels. The barrels to be full head-lined and bungs sealed.

For delivery by and before the 20th May, 1863.

Small samples to accompany proposals.

Each bid must have a printed copy of this advertisement posted at its head, and must be specific in complying precisely with all the terms. Each bid, to have consideration, must contain the written guaranty of two responsible names, as follows:

"We, the undersigned, hereby guaranty that should all or any part of the above bid be accepted, it shall be duly fulfilled according to the true purport and conditions, also, that a written contract with bonds to the amount of one-fourth the value of the stores proposed to be furnished shall be executed if required."

Bidders may propose for the whole or a part of the above.

The seller's name, place of business, with date of purchase, is required on each barrel.

The Flour will be inspected at the date of delivery, and compared with the retained samples, by Henry Shields, President Association Flour Inspectors, whose certificate will be required.

Payment, as heretofore, to be made in such funds as may be furnished by the United States.

Contractors are expected to head their goods, without expense to the United States, until required for shipment.

Proposers whose bids are not accepted are requested to send for their samples on WEDNESDAY, 13th inst.

Blank forms for Proposals will be furnished at this office, which must be inclosed in an envelope addressed to the undersigned, and indorsed "Proposals for Subsistence Stores."

A. B. EATON,
Colonel and A. C. G. S.

PROPOSALS FOR HAY, STRAW AND GRAIN.

ASSISTANT QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE, FORAGE, DEPARTMENT, corner of G and 22d-sts., WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16, 1863.

Written proposals are invited for furnishing HAY, STRAW, OATS and CORN for the use of this depot, to be delivered at the railroad depot, or at any of the Government wharves in this city.

The proposals to be addressed to the undersigned, and they should state the quantity of each article offered, also the price and the date of delivery.

Proposals will be received for five thousand (5,000) bushels of Corn or Oats, and fifty (50) tons of Hay or Straw, and upward, un

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR. WARD & CO., No. 12 Laight-st., near Canal, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but lit le money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much-neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance, failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to DR. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st., the only place. Call, send or write.

SURE CURE—BY DR. POWERS, SUCCESSfully consulted with Dr. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Venerians, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa, gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of these complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. The marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitutions—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. The men to consult, Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1840. N. B.—Those who have used their preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

THE VIGOR OF YOUTH IS RESTORED in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and all impediments to marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body-destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D., No. 12 Laight-st., New-York.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 160th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. For sale by H. RICHARDSON, at No. 1 Vesey-st., (Astor House,) and No. 18 Ann-st.; FREDERHEN & CO., 13 Court-st., Boston.

AN ACT OF GRATITUDE.—20,000 COPIES of a medical book for gratuitous circulation, by a sufferer, who has been effectually cured of nervous debility, loss of memory and dimness of sight, resulting from early errors, by following the instructions given in a medical work, considers it his duty, in gratitude to the author and for the benefit of consumptives and nervous sufferers, to publish the means used. He will, therefore, send free to any address, on receipt of two stamps, a copy of the work, containing every information required. Address Box No. 5779 Post-office, Albany, N. Y.

DR. WARD'S MAGICAL INVIGORATORS, IN the form of Pills, will, in fifteen minutes after being taken, make the recipient as vigorous as if nature had never been retarded or debilitated. To the married or single, in every physical exigency, this unrivaled medicine is earnestly recommended as a complete restorative of the nervous system where manhood has been impaired. Prepared at DR. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st., near Canal. Call or send for circulars.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in cases of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases; warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations! Purchase directly of Dr. POWERS, No. 12 Laight-st., New-York.

DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP RESTORES the vigor of youth in four days. Restores manhood to the most shattered system. No. 3 Division-st., New-York, the only place. Beware of bogus Dr. Hunters. The City is full of knaves, up to every trick to rob him of his great reputation as a skillful and reliable physician. He has no other office but No. 3 Division-st. Established in 1834. Eight separate rooms and a private entrance.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause. Thus they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office, No. 12 Laight-st., where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

DR. JOHNSON, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY be consulted with confidence on private diseases. Thirty years in one specialty enables him to ensure speedy and permanent cures. N. B.—Those who may have been misled by quack advertisements, nostrums, &c., can call on Dr. J. with the certainty of receiving honorable treatment.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has, for thirty years, confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases, when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without pain or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb, unless his remedy is used. That is What the Red Drop is for, and what he does it will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians, in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole Medical faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great, that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it, and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 53 Division-st. Pack for 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

These returns will be made in the same form as heretofore.
3. LICENSES.—Section 15 of the amendments of March 3, 1863, provides "That the several Assessors shall, on the first Monday of May next, (1863,) and on the first Monday of May in each succeeding year, direct and cause the several Assistant Assessors to proceed through every part of their respective districts, and inquire after and concerning all persons being within the assessment districts, where they respectively reside, and liable to a license duty under the provisions of this Act, or of the Act to which this is an addition, and assess such persons as in said Acts is required. And all licenses so assessed shall continue in force until the first of May next succeeding.
"And all licenses granted after the first day of May in any year, shall expire on the first day of May following and shall be issued upon the payment of a ratable proportion

IMPORTANT FROM HAVANA.

LATEST NEWS FROM MEXICO.

Advices from Puebla to the 12th of April.

The French in Possession of All but a Small Part of the City.

Excitement in Havana Regarding the Proceedings of Our Cruisers.

Movements of the Blockade-Runners.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HAVANA, Sunday, May 3, 1863.

A French man-of-war steamer, the Marceau, arrived here a few days ago, bringing dispatches from Gen. FOREY, which have been forwarded to the Emperor.

According to the news brought, the last mail from Puebla, which arrived at Vera Cruz before the departure of the above, left the French headquarters on the 12th. At that date, according to the French accounts, they continued penning up the Mexican garrison; the latter only occupied the part of the city the least able to be defended, and found themselves, as it were, cooped up in the space comprised between the last barricades (the District of San José) and the forts of Guadelupe and Loreto.

"Gen. FOREY," says the Diario de la Marina in its correspondence, "writes that he is quite satisfied; the operations were going on prudently and slowly, but of the final result there could be no doubt." It was believed in Vera Cruz, according to the last news received, that the English steamer which leaves there on the 2d inst., would carry news to Havana that Puebla was in the hands of the French.

It is also said that quite a large force of cavalry sallied out of the city a little before the departure of the mail, in order to join Gen. COMONFORT; but they did not succeed, and were obliged to enter the city again with a rather large loss of killed, wounded and prisoners. It is also said that COMONFORT had been flanked, and was in a very critical position. However, this last piece of news is not official like the former. The official accounts also state that the fort of Guadalupe, the most important of the city, was surrounded on the outside with intrenchments and parapets, constructed by the French, and that by this means JUAREZ's soldiers were prevented from getting out, whilst provisions and ammunition were prevented from being got in. These latter were alarmingly scarce, according to the deserters, and the want of water, which threatened to be shortly complete, kept all in a state of alarm.

The French chief of the counter guerrillas, Col. DUPIN, was about to remove, if he had not already done so, with all his force, to Coatzacoalcos, where some Mexican guerrillas had shown themselves. Moreover, the river of that name was protected by two gunboats.

The news that Merida had pronounced in favor of the intervention is confirmed, the pronunciamiento including the whole country as far as Carmen. The Governor of Yucatan, Don LIBORIO IRIGOYEN, had fled, and it was thought that Señor REGIL had been appointed in his place, although two other candidates, one of whom was Don THOMAS MARIN, aspired to the same office.

A force from Campeachy that attempted a second time to attack the city of Carmen, was completely routed, and retired in a very demoralized condition.

The French Admiral, M. JURIEN DE LA GRAVIERE, is on his way to France. He embarked on the 21st at Vera Cruz, on board of the French frigate Dryade, which was signaled some days back at the Moro Castle, on her way to New-York.

Admiral BOSSE, who has taken Admiral JURIEN DE LA GRAVIERE's place, arrived on the 20th ult. at Vera Cruz on board of the Bellone.

Some excitement has been occasioned by the report that a one-masted vessel, armed with a cannon and manned by twelve persons, had boarded and searched another one-masted vessel, English, that left this port the other day, and also a coasting schooner that entered a few days ago, inside of the marine limits of the island. The aggressive vessel carried no flag to show to what nation it belonged. The Spanish war-steamer Lezo has been dispatched to find out the stranger.

Since the above-mentioned occurrence took place the English schooner Dream, which left here on the 30th ult. for Matamoras, last Thursday, came back on the following morning, having been chased a few leagues from the shore by another schooner which carried the United States flag, it is said. The Siglo, from which this latter paragraph is taken, considers this to be the same vessel alluded to above, and in pursuit of which the Spanish war vessel has been sent.

Since then the Spanish steamer Lezo met, about four miles from the coast, the American vessel in question, and sent a boat with an officer to examine its papers. The vessel proved to be the Annie, Commander J. S. WILLIAMS, fitted out apparently by the United States Government for war purposes, and, as was stated by its Commander, to be commissioned to cruise from Tortuquilla to Cape San Antonio, at the western extremity of Cuba. Its commander confessed to having chased an English schooner, but maintained that it was outside of the territorial limits of Cuba. The Annie was overhauled by another Spanish war steamer, the Neptuno. The Captain of the Dream, whose name is SIMPKINS, stated to the captain of the Lezo that in the chase by the American vessel several balls and other projectiles were fired at his vessel, one of which latter burst over the schooner, making a hole in the sail and injuring the deck. The English Captain and his crew have signed a protest, affirming that the above occurrence took place within four, three, two, and even a mile and a half of the coast. The commander of the Annie affirms the contrary.

Another English schooner had also sought refuge in the harbor of Banes, which, like the Dream, was on her voyage to Matamoras, and was afraid to continue it lest she should be taken. Two war steamers had been seen in the vicinity of that port, carrying a French flag and the American pennant.

Three Spanish war steamers, the Lezo, Neptuno and Lealtad, which, on receiving information of the above-named events, had proceeded toward the coast, are on the lookout all along the seashore, and in constant communication.

The Spanish screw corvette steamer Santa Lucia has been sent to Santo Domingo on an important hydrographical commission—namely, to rectify the charts of the eastern coast of that island, on account of the many maritime accidents which occur in that part at Cabo Engaño and Saona.

The United States steamer Huntsville, ROGERS, Commander, and the Sonoma, STEVENS, Commander, left here yesterday; the latter came in the same day, the 26, from Key West.

The Corsica, which has taken the place of the British Queen, arrived here safely on the 1st inst., having made the voyage between New-York, Nassau and Havana in six days. She brought out freight and 40 passengers for here. This is her first voyage out. The day of departure for her return voyage for Nassau and New-York will be on the 9th.

The Confederate or English steamer Neptune, for it would be hard to say which is which, arrived likewise at this port on the 1st inst., from Mobile, with a cargo of cotton.

The Corsica brought us news from Nassau up to the 25th ult. The Confederate steamers Calypso and Antonica had arrived there, with cargoes of cotton, from Charleston. Both arrived so close together, that it was thought, as they entered the harbor, that one was pursuing the other. The steamer Ella and Annie had left the same place for St. John, N. B., with an assorted cargo.

The English war steamer Landrail anchored in the port at Trinidad, on the 29th ult., and two other English vessels of the West India fleet were seen at no great distance from shore—the Ariadne and the Rosario.

MOVEMENTS OF GEN. MCCLELLAN.—Last week the ex-chief of the Army of the Potomac visited Newburgh, where he was received by the leading Copperheads with great favor, and afterward went to Cornwall, where he remained for two or three days the guest of the notorious Dr. BEATTY, who was put into Fort Lafayette last Summer for disloyal practices.

NEWS FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

Gen. Dix and Staff Gone up the York River—All Quiet in Gen. Foster's Department—Items of Southern News.

FORT MONROE, Thursday, May 7.

Major-Gen. DIX and Staff left Fortress Monroe this forenoon, for York River.

The propeller Dudley Buck, Capt. SMITH, arrived this morning from Newbern, N. C. The Captain reports that he left Newbern day before yesterday. All was quiet in that department. Gen. FOSTER was at Newbern. One of his aids came on the Dudley Buck, with dispatches for Washington. When outside the blockade they spoke the propeller General Banks, from Hilton Head, bound to Newbern. The G. B. reported no news.

Late Southern papers announce the death of the rebel Gen. D. S. DONELSON.

Gov. BROWN, of Georgia, has vetoed the State Guard or new Militia bill.

The Shreveport (La.) Gazette recently published a card, signed by 140 foreigners, who, fearing the draft, took this course to notify the public that they were French subjects, and owe no allegiance to the State of Louisiana. A Mr. COURTADES, one of the signers of the card, was taken out of his bed and tarred and cottoned the same night, and the "Rogue's March" was played before the business houses of the balance.

A line of couriers has been established by the Government for the transmission of official documents and late dispatches from Shreveport to Nevasosa, there to connect with the railroad to Houston, Texas. The telegraph line is being rapidly built from Camden, Ark., to Shreveport, for military purposes.

WELCOME TO THE DURYEE ZOUAVES.

Splendid Military Turn Out—The Zouaves Everywhere Cordially Received.

A MUNICIPAL BANQUET, &C.

The Fifth Regiment New-York State Volunteers, known as Duryee's Zouaves—First Regiment—were welcomed on their return to the Metropolis, yesterday, with a splendid military turn-out, and one of the most enthusiastic popular demonstrations that could be imagined. The corps has been in nearly all the battles for the Union in Virginia and Maryland, from Big Bethel to Chancellorsville, and has always distinguished itself for its esprit du corps, its splendid discipline, and its fierce fighting whenever opportunity offered. As is well known, it has been honored by being brigaded with the regulars under Gen. SYKES, and has received from him due meed of praise. No wonder, then, that New-York should be proud of it, and should do the utmost to show the regiment how patriotism and valor is appreciated in the Metropolis of the Empire State. Two of our best regiments of militia, the Seventy-first and Thirty-seventh, paraded to do them honor, while their late comrades in arms, the Tenth New-York, Col. BENDIX, temporarily supplied with arms, likewise turned out to receive them. It was arranged that the Fifth should leave Jersey City at 3 o'clock P. M., and ad interim the attractive red breeches could be seen scattered throughout the City—everywhere the centre of attraction, the focus of ten thousand questions, the cynosure of all eyes, the envy of the men, the delight of the women. Probably no other regiment in the army is so well known—certainly none from the City of New-York has more friends. They are the same dashing, daring, free and easy, glorious fellows that they were when they left. It seems but a brief period since they electrified the City by their appearance en route for the seat of war, and their then unequaled marching drill. But how pregnant has been that brief period with memorable events. The eleven hundred men have dwindled to about two huudred and fifty, by the ravages of the bullet and camp disease, together with the natural depreciation of the force from the various disablements which have occurred. They are all still staunch in their love for the Union. The baptism of fire and sword has sanctified the cause to them, and many of them say that after they have seen their friends and enjoyed a brief respite, they will be off to camp and field again to do or die for the good old flag. They bring back their colors—worn, torn, pierced with many bullet holes, but not dishonored; not stained with the memory of one retreat or one ignoble act. Everywhere, where they appeared bearing these glorious Stars and Stripes, the cheering was loud, long and hearty.

The line of march was through Cortlandt-street Broadway, the Park, Broadway, Union-square, Seventeenth-street, Fifth-avenue, Fourteenth-street, and Broadway to the City Assembly Rooms. They seemed to march through a deep ravine of human beings, ecstatic with acclamations of welcome. The very heart of New-York seemed touched, and many an eye dimmed with sympathetic tears, and impressive cordiality was every where exhibited for the brawny braves. Their march was something which is rarely seen, and elicited universal comment. It was the march of veterans. The head of the line reached the City Hall about 4½ o'clock, and, after much difficulty, owing to the small force of Police and the large force of the crowd, a space was cleared, and the distinguished guests, the Mayor and Common Council, and others entitled to be in the front rank, reviewed the passing pageant. Of course, all admired the excellent appearance of the Tenth Volunteers, the Seventy-first and Thirty-seventh Militia, and the corps of citizens generally, marshalled by the late Colonel of the regiment and its founder, Gen. DURYEE. But the wild wave of welcome waited for the well-worn warriors, and, many as have been the glorious scenes of enthusiasm in front of our old City Hall, none ever surpassed that of this occasion. Alderman BOOLE said it eclipsed the Japanese and the Turk, as well it might, for here the great heart of our impulsive people throbbed with unwonted emotion. The wounded, in carriages, were specially honored.

But the best of the reception was the fact that the entire regiment was entertained at a municipal banquet, given at the City Assembly Rooms, where feasting, mirth song and sentiment, gladdened the brave fellows who have dared and done so much for their country.

THE BANQUET.

The Common Council Committee, Messrs. FARLEY, MITCHELL, HENRY, BOOLE, OTTIWELL, JOYCE, BRANDON, MCCONNELL, HAVILAND and WEBSTER, determined to give the boys a good time irrespective of the formality usual on such occasions. They, therefore, provided plenty of substantial eating, with a profusion of mild punch to wash it down, and a small allowance of talking. The Zou Zous entered into the affair with spirit, and enjoyed it all the more because it was conducted with becoming free-and-easiness. Having satisfied the inner man, and indulged in smoking—not pipes of peace, but municipal cigars—they heard and cheered to the echo toasts to "The Red Devils," "The National Guard," "The Governor of the State," "The Zouaves—God bless 'em," "The Ladies," "The Union as it was, and the Constitution as it is," &c. Strong Union speeches were made by Gen. Duryee, Col. Warren, Col. Bendix, Gen. Walbridge, Col. Buckingham and others. Alderman FARLEY, who presided, kept the feast of reason and flow of soul in lively exercise, and wound up at an early hour, leaving the guests to the enjoyment of the festivities, and to a grateful appreciation of their reception by the municipal authorities. Gen. DURYEA's speech recites so tersely the achievements of the Zouaves that we give it in full:

SPEECH OF GEN. DURYEA.

SOLDIERS OF THE FIFTH ZOUAVES: Two years ago you entered the service of your country, solemnly obligating yourselves to fight for the restoration and integrity of the Union. With laudable fidelity and zeal, you have fulfilled the obligation, ever presenting the most undaunted front to the foes of our country. On the 23d of May, after one month's instruction, you embarked for the seat of war. Thirteen days subsequent to your arrival, you distinguished yourselves in the first battle for the Republic. The threatening aspect of affairs at Baltimore immediately after the disaster of Bull Run called you to that city, where you constructed one of the most formidable and extensive forts in the country. Your moral bearing as soldiers and gentlemen, pending your stay, won the respect, admiration and esteem of its inhabitants. In the seven days' battle on the Peninsula, under Gen. MCCLELLAN, you won imperishable renown by your deeds of daring, displaying, under all circumstances, the fortitude that becomes the soldier of the North. On the sanguinary field of Gaines' Mills you drove the enemy at the point of the bayonet, nearly annihilating two regiments of the enemy. With characteristic bravery you fought at Bull Run, losing one-half of your number in killed and wounded. At Chantilly, South Mountain, Antietam, and at the recent battles Fredericksburgh, closing your military career with distinguished honor, winning the admiration of your fellow-citizens by your noble conduct, and cheerfully submitting to the privations and sufferings incident to the calamities of war. What, then, can be the feelings of the officers, around whose names you have twined the wreaths of honor? We now greet you with thanks, and extend to you a fraternal and hearty welcome back to your native State, your relatives and friends, wishing you prosperity as bright as has been your glowing deeds of fortitude and courage.

The following is the list of officers returning with the regiment:

Colonel—CLEVELAND WINSLOW.
Lieutenant-Colonel—George Duryee.
Major—Carlisle Boyd.
Chaplain—Rev. Gordon Winslow.
Surgeon—Frank W. Doolittle.
Assistant Surgeon—F. R. Grimes.
Adjutant—Thomas J. Taylor.

First Lieutenants—Ackele, commanding Co. H; Gordon Winslow, Jr.; Albert Meldrum, Thomas E. Fish, George L. Guthrie, Geo. A. Vail.
Second Lieutenants—Walsh, Gilligan, Burnes, Frie, Carr, Kellson.

THE WAR IN TENNESSEE.

An Order of Interest to the Ladies—Reported Movement of Rebel Cavalry.

MURFREESBORO, Friday, May 8.

The following order is important to ladies proposing to visit this Department, and Gen. ROSECRANS desires it thoroughly ventilated in the Northern papers:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE CUMBERLAND,
OFFICE PROVOST-MARSHAL,
MURFREESBORO, May 8, 1863.

This being the season for active military operations, the presence of ladies, however desirable under certain circumstances, is not so now. The General Commanding directs that no passes be issued to ladies to pass from Louisville to Nashville, Murfreesboro, or within the lines of this Department until further orders. Those residing in the North are warned to avoid the trouble and expense of traveling to Louisville, as they will not be admitted within the lines of the department, except in the most urgent cases, and then under passes issued from the department headquarters.

M. WILES,
Major and Provost-Marshal.

LOUISVILLE, Friday, May 8.

It is reported that the rebel cavalry under MORGAN and WHEELER, are at Lexington, Tenn., and moving toward Kentucky.

Arrival of the Body of Major-Gen. Berry at Portland.

PORTLAND, Me., Friday, May 8.

The remains of Gen. BERRY were escorted to the Rockland steamer Harvest Moon, by a detachment of soldiers from the Seventh regiment, the Grand Lodge of Maine, (Gen. BERRY having been a member of the Order,) and a large concourse of citizens. A deputation of citizens from Rockland, headed by Hon. JAMES FARWELL, arrived this afternoon to take charge of the body.

A Threatened Disturbance in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Friday, May 8.

A disturbance was threatened at the office of the Age this afternoon, caused by a soldier tearing down its bulletin placard, which contained the following head lines:

"Illegal arrests by the Government."

This act was resented, when a crowd gathered around and cried "Tear it down," and some demonstrations were made to carry out the threat, when Mayor HENRY appeared upon the scene, addressed the assemblage, and called upon good citizens to disperse.

Mayor HENRY was greeted with great enthusiasm, and three cheers were given for him and Gen. HOOKER, when the crowd moved slowly off.

State Convention in Western Virginia.

WHEELING, Va., Friday, May 8.

A convention met at Parkersburgh on the 5th to nominate officers for the new State of West Virginia, and adjourned yesterday, having made the following nominations:

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH HIM?—There are children quite too smart for parents or teachers, and it is difficult to manage them. They are nigh tempered, secretive, greedy, and inclined to take that which does not belong to them. There is a way by which they may be brought into subjection, and Phrenology explains it. Examinations daily, with written charts, by FOWLER & WELLS, 308 Broadway.

LOYAL LEAGUE OF UNION CITIZENS.

NEW-YORK, May 6, 1863.

To the People of the State of New-York:

The undersigned, a Committee of members of the Loyal League, appointed at a mass meeting of the loyal people of the City of New-York, held at Madison-square, in said City, on the 20th day of April, 1863, do hereby, in pursuance of authority then vested in them, call a Mass Assemblage of the loyal citizens of the State of New-York, to be held at Utica, in the county of Oneida, on the 27th day of May instant, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

They invite all the Loyal Leagues organized in any part of the State, to send to said assemblage delegates as many in number as they may find convenient; and they also invite all loyal citizens, without regard to past political divisions, or to present differences of opinion upon party questions, to attend this assemblage of the People of the State, for the purpose of manifesting to our country and the world, their fixed determination to sustain the Government in prosecuting the war which it is compelled to wage in its own defence, against a groundless and wicked rebellion, and to put forth any efforts, and submit to any sacrifices, which may be necessary to destroy the military power arrayed against the Government of the United States, to release the people of the South from the armed tyranny under which they are held, and to preserve the territorial integrity of the American Union, the full authority of the Constitution, and the unquestioned supremacy of the National Flag.

The undersigned will announce hereafter the names of distinguished speakers whose attendance they may be able to secure, and such other arrangements as may be made for the complete attainment of the patriotic objects for which this assemblage is to be held.

INCIDENTS IN MY LIFE.

Just published from the advance English sheets, by special arrangement with the author,

A REMARKABLE BOOK,

The Personal Memoirs of

D. D. HOME,

The celebrated Spirit-Medium,

ENTITLED

INCIDENTS IN MY LIFE.

With an Introduction by Judge Edmonds, of New-York.

Elegantly Printed and Cloth Bound, 12mo, $1 25.

The extraordinary Life and History of Daniel Home, (or Hume, as he is sometimes called,) the Spirit-Medium, from his humble birth through a series of associations with personages distinguished in scientific and literary circles throughout Europe, to even a familiarity with crowned heads, has surrounded him with an interest of the most powerful character. As a Spirit-Medium his superiority is supreme, and the publication of these memoirs will probably excite as much comment in this country as they have in Europe, and will be eagerly hailed by every one interested in Spiritualism.

THE TRIUMPHS OF THE BIBLE:
With the Testimony of Science to its Truth. By Rev. HENRY TULLIDGE. 1 vol., 12mo. $1 50.

"A work of Christian evidences suited to the wants of the present time. The writer first undertakes to show that the triumphs of the Bible—the wonderful achievements it has wrought in the world—demonstrate it to be from God. In the following part two special objects are proposed. First, from a careful examination of the relations of Science and Scripture, to show that there is no collision, but entire harmony as soon as the latter are properly understood. Second, to bring forward a new class of evidences which have been preserved for discovery until the present age, as material for vindicating the historic reality of the Bible."

ALSO, JUST READY:
THE NEW TESTAMENT:
With Brief Explanatory Notes (or Scholia.) By Prof. HOWARD CROSBY, D. D. 1 vol., 12mo., pp. 540. Price $1 50.

This book is intended to meet the wants of the Bible reader, by solving in a brief and suggestive manner the difficulties of the English text. There is no commentary or discussion of doctrine, but simply an explanation of text and context. It gives the result of Biblical scholarship. Its brevity and point will commend it in these days of prolix commentaries.
